14 Are Injured In Area Mishaps

Fourteen were injured in a series of district highway mishaps blamed on snow-covered roads and poor driving over the weekend, the Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

A city driver and passenger were hurt in a collision early today in the Substation area and four were injured in a Route 45 mishap near Lisbon Sunday.

CARS OPERATED by Ronald Walrath, 24, of Lisbon St. and William McGraw, 22, of Maple Heights collided at the intersection of Route 170 and 30 at 12:20 a. m.

Walrath halted for a stop sign and his 1959 compact was struck by McGraw's 1964 auto, demolishing the smaller auto, officers said. Walrath was treated at City Hospital for a mild back sprain, and Carolyn Conkle, 19, of Spring Grove Ave., a passenger in his car, was treated for a possible neck injury.

Walrath was cited for false registration and McGraw for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Cars operated by Albert Larkins, 26, of Elkton, Josephine Kovalchick, 29, of Maple Heights and Stephen Ladina, 23, of Lakewood collided on Route 45 about four miles north of Lisbon yesterday at 4:10 p. m.

Officers said all three motorists were headed north, when the one driven by the Elkton woman started to skid and went left of center. The Kovalchick woman attempted to go to the right, but the other auto came back to the right and was struck by the second car. Ladina attempted to go around both, but his car hit the Elkton woman's 1956 auto, which was demolished.

The Kovalchick woman and Delores Vukmanic, 28, of Maple Heights, a passenger in her car, along with Elaine Ladina, 21, and Joseph Ladina, 2 months, were taken to Salem Central Clinic.

HENDERSON CRUM, 47, of Lisbon R.D. 3 and George Kyser, 30, of Salem R.D. 5 were injured in a three-car mishap on Route 1 about three miles north of Route 30 at 6:30 p.m.

Officers said Crum, headed south in a 1966 auto, went left of the center line and collided with a car operated by Kyser.

GIs Launch Major Drive In Vietnam

Operation Aimed Against Viet Cong Jungle Bastion

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — U.S. troops have launched a big new drive against the Viet Cong's jungle bastion in War Zone C. U.S. officials also disclosed today that chemical-spraying American planes have started defoliation of the southern half of the demilitarized zone to expose North Vietnamese invasion routes into the South.

In other developments: American ground forces reported killing more than 100 enemy soldiers in a series of engagements.

Air Force B52s staged two raids, one against War Zone C and the other just south of the demilitarized zone separating the two Vietnams.

U. S. tactical bombers flew a record 565 sorties against Communist positions and troops in South Vietnam.

Over North Vietnam, U. S. Air Force planes tangled with Communist MIGs during strikes close to Hanoi Sunday. Four F-4C Phantom jets took on eight MIG17s in a fire exchange but no damage was reported to either side.

The aerial duel came while Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs pounded a big army barracks at Xuan Mai, 20 miles west-southwest of Hanoi. The raid against the 400-acre barracks area was the closest to Hanoi since Jan. 15, when U. S. planes attacked an oil depot 14½ miles north of the Communist capital.

The first of six flights over the barracks area reported silencing three antiaircraft guns. Other pilots reported destroying three buildings and starting numerous fires.

U. S. spokesmen said the area was a training ground for antiaircraft crews and had facilities for two battalions, or about 1,200 men.

American pilots flew 113 missions against targets in the North Sunday, the highest total since Jan. 4, when 116 missions were registered. A month of bad weather followed.

U.S. pilots claimed damage or destruction of 29 antiaircraft

10-25 Years Received For $300 Robbery

LISBON — A young man who robbed Mrs. W. K. Hoge of $300 New Year's eve in her home at Glenmoor has been sentenced to 10 to 25 years in the Ohio Reformatory at Mansfield.

Donald J. Hoyt, 23, formerly of Echo Dell Trailer Court in St. Clair Township, pleaded guilty to an armed robbery charge Friday before Judge Joel H. Sharp in Common Pleas Court.

The court denied Hoyt's request for probation made by William Bush of Wellsville, court-appointed defense counsel.

Hoyt chose not to wait for the next grand jury session in April and asked to proceed on information furnished by Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis.

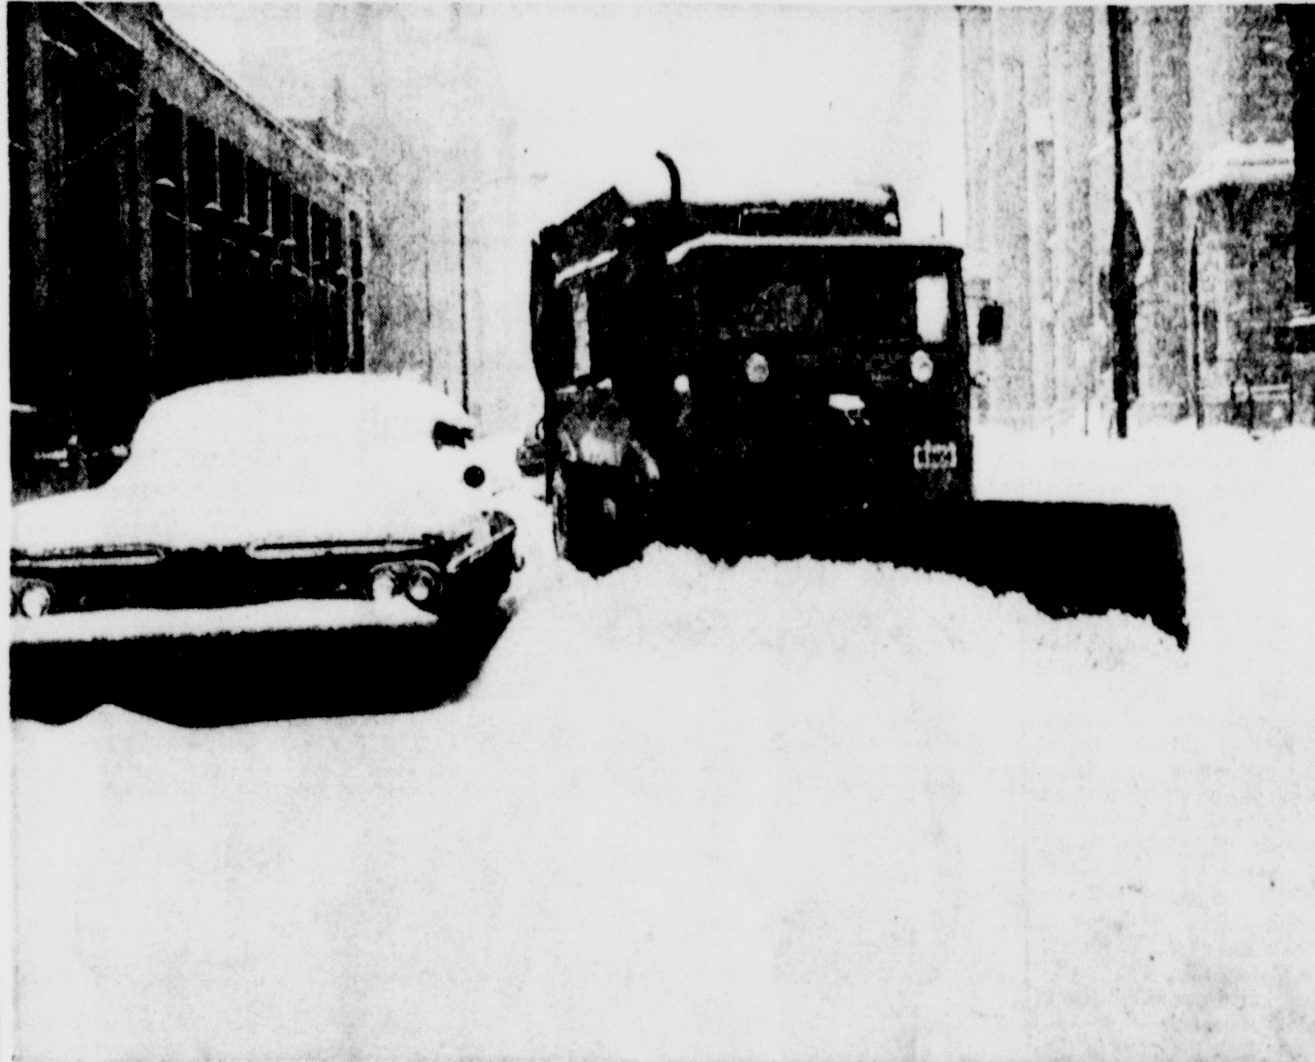

The prosecutor said Hoyt entered the Hoge home, bound Mrs. Hoge with a heavy cord and took $300 from her purse.

Mrs. Hoge had retired, leaving the door unlocked for her husband to return from their

SNOWPLOWS were back at work on main thoroughfares in Chicago Sunday. Chicagoans had finally dug out of two snowfalls in a week, one that left nearly two feet of snow on the ground, when they were hit again Sunday. Weathermen predict another six to nine inches of snow. Drifting snow is expected through a 10-state area of the midwest. (UPI Telephoto)

2 Plans Face Crucial Tests In Assembly

Action Slated On Bond Commission, Reapportionment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two administration proposals face crucial floor tests in the Ohio Legislature this week with majority Republicans still looking for a statewide ballot to place them on.

The House is scheduled to vote on a constitutional resolution establishing an Ohio Bond Commission while the Senate will take up Tuesday a legislative reapportionment plan that would stand until after the next census.

Both proposals had been slated for the May primary ballot, and still may get on it, but apparently some legal questions will be answered first.

Administration and legislative officials pondered the situation today as the lawmakers returned from weekend recess to begin what should be their busiest sessions since the General Assembly convened Jan. 2. Hearings were set this week on 63 bills—26 in the Senate and 37 in the lower chamber.

Plans to place the two questions on the May ballot hit a snag last week when Democrats rejected an emergency clause on a bill that would have assured statewide primaries. Some communities do not have primaries scheduled this year.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown asserted however, that the special bill was not needed because the ballot proposals themselves carry provisions requiring them to be voted on in May of this year.

Other officials held doubts, however, and said they would

Driver, 16, Uninjured In Car Skid, Plunge

Daniel Earl Crago, 16, of 414 Commerce St., New Cumberland, escaped injury when his northbound 1963 station wagon slid on snow-covered West Virginia Route 66 Sunday afternoon south of Newell and went over an embankment onto the adjacent railroad tracks.

The auto sustained heavy damage in the mishap, timed at 5:45 by the Hancock County sheriff's department.

New Storm Hits Nine-State Area

By The Associated Press
A wave of bone-numbing cold swept into parts of a nine-state area today as the latest of a series of killer snowstorms moved into the Eastern Seaboard.

The latest storm brought delays in transportation, school closings, frustration and death to many areas.

Cold-wave warnings were posted today for parts of nine states from Wisconsin to Illinois to western Texas and Nebraska.

And in New Orleans, heavy rain drenched the costumes but not the spirits of revelers at the annual Mardi Gras parade.

The Weather Bureau early today posted tornado warnings for parts of coastal areas in eastern and south-central Texas and southwestern and central Louisiana.

Also forecast for the region were severe thunderstorms with large hail and locally damaging winds.

The latest of three successive storms gave snow-weary Chicagoans up to eight inches more and deposited up to 11 inches in

6 Inches Dumped In Some Areas

Winter Throws 'Sneak' Punch At Northern Ohio

By The Associated Press
Winter threw a sneak Sunday punch at northern Ohio as a storm moved across the Midwest, dumping up to six inches of snow from Toledo eastward.

Ohio Turnpike speeds were down to 40 miles per hour. About 155 ice fishermen were stranded overnight at Put-in-Bay on South Bass Island.

Some school districts were closed today and the snow was expected to ease, with flurries predicted in the Cleveland area. Temperatures will skid to 5 to 10 above tonight the Weather Bureau at Cleveland Hopkins Airport reported.

Sunday's forecast for the Cleveland area was "a few snow flurries." It turned out to be much more in Ohio's largest city and elsewhere.

Hopkins Airport shut down for one half hour while runways were cleared. Planes circled,

Drifted Roads Hit School At United Local

Ashing Crews Busy Throughout Area In Fairly Heavy Fall

One Columbiana County school was closed and roads were treacherous in parts of the tri-state area as the district got a taste of the winter weather which has been plaguing so many parts of the nation.

Calling off classes because of drifted roads, was United Local, a 75-square-mile district in the west-central part of the county. The snow holiday was the first for any school in the county this school year.

No other schools in the county system reported "off" to the county office at the Courthouse in Lisbon.

The forecast calls for partly cloudy and colder tonight with snow flurries, with a low of zero to 5 above, and partly cloudy and continued cold Tuesday.

The county Highway Department had 13 trucks at work through the night ashing and plowing the 150 miles of road it maintains. The snowfall measured about six inches at Lisbon.

Gay Zellers, county highway superintendent, said the roads are open but snow-covered and slippery. The plows are still at work widening the plowed areas.

Clues Still Sought In Fatal Apollo Fire

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A board of review today continued the slow methodical search for clues to the fatal Apollo 1 fire.

Officials said the investigation could take several weeks and that the cause might never be known.

More discussions with technicians and study of data were on tap today. Other experts continued to examine the interior of the charred spacecraft, which still is atop a Saturn I rocket on launch complex 34.

Killed in the flash fire were Air Force Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grissom and Edward H. White II and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee.

Liu, Teng Removed In Peking Step

How Or When They Were Fired Isn't Given In Reports

TOKYO (AP) — Diplomatic sources in Peking say Red China's President Liu Shao-chi and Communist party general secretary Teng Hsiao-ping have been ousted from their jobs, two Japanese correspondents reported from the Chinese capital today.

The reports to Asahi Shimbun and Yomiuri did not say how or when Mao Tse-tung's two leading foes were removed. But resistance to Mao's campaign to replace their appointees in the party and government machinery throughout China was expected to continue unabated.

The Yomiuri correspondent said Liu had lost both his government and party posts.

Teng could have been expelled from the party secretaryship by the central committee's plenary session last August. But Liu could be legally removed from the presidency only by the National People's Congress which elected him and which is not known to have met since 1965.

Neither Liu nor Teng have publicly exercised their official duties in Peking since last November. But continuing reports from Peking of resistance to Mao's purge indicate that their supporters retain control of wide areas of China.

These other developments were reported from turbulent China during the weekend:

The New China News Agency, controlled by Maoists, acknowledged that Mao's opponents still control the party machinery in southwest China, a vast area including Tibet, Kweichow, Szechwan and the World War II stronghold of Yunnan. The agency said the pro-Mao party headquarters in Kweichow Province reported the southwest bureau of the central committee "actively implemented and stubbornly clung to the bourgeois reactionary line." It appealed for unity "to recapture power held by the handful of persons within the southwest bureau in authority taking the capitalist road."

Red Guards demonstrating at Peking airport delayed for six hours the departure for Moscow Sunday of 90 wives and children of Soviet Embassy officials. Women in the group said on arriving at Irkutsk that some of them were pushed and beaten. Moscow Radio reported demonstrations continued outside the Soviet Embassy today for the 10th day.

Area Marine Killed In Viet

Enemy Blast Claims Beaver Falls Youth

Marine Pfc. Thomas Richard Mark, 18, of Beaver Falls, a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stanley of Rogers, was killed by a hostile explosive device at Da Nang, South Vietnam, Saturday.

His parents, Francis and Pearl Mark of 42 Pleasantview Homes, were advised by a Marine officer Sunday morning of their son's death.

Pfc. Mark, a June graduate of Beaver Falls High School, had been in Vietnam for two weeks.

Information from the Defense Department indicated he had been killed by multiple fragments from a hostile explosion.

He had enlisted July 5.

Besides his parents and grandparents, he is survived by a brother and six sisters.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete pending arrival of the body.

Services Set For Victim Of Midland Fire

Services have been set for James F. Healey, 60, who died Saturday at Rochester General Hospital from burns suffered earlier at his room in the Balkan Hotel, Midland.

According to Beaver County authorities, Mr. Healey died of shock from third - degree burns over 75 per cent of his body. The blaze occurred at 7:30 a. m. Saturday when bed clothing ignited, apparently from a cigarette. Death came at 1:45 p. m.

A blessing service will be held Tuesday at 10 a. m. at the Cannon Funeral Home in Midland, with Fr. Stephen Burdick of the Midland Presentation Church officiating. Burial will be in Beaver Cemetery.

Mr. Healey was born in New Brighton, Sept. 9, 1906, and had resided in Midland for 25 years. He formerly resided in Massillon. He was a crane operator at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. and has been on a disability pension. He was a member of Steelworkers Local 1212.

He is survived by three daughters, Miss Patricia Ann Healey of Canton, Mrs. Ben (Dorothy) Connor of Dayton and Mrs. Joseph (Lois) Bonazara of Chardon Falls, Ohio; his mother, Mrs. Agnes E. Healey of Massillon; two brothers, Joseph H. Healey of Monaca and Timothy D. Healey of Massillon; a sister, Miss Mary C. Healey of Massillon, and three grandchildren.

Friends may call at the funeral home any time.

Intruders Get Guns, Money In Rochester

ROCHESTER — Thieves broke into the Army & Navy Surplus Store early Sunday and took rifles, pistols, field glasses, watches and $20 in cash, police reported.

The intruders broke a window into a vacant second floor apartment, then cut a hole into the floor and entered the store. The loot included two rifles, four pistols, three watches, knives, 22 boxes of cartridges and the money.

Retired Justice Dies

ANDERSON, Ind. (AP) — Judge Harold E. Achon, 59, a recently retired justice of the Indiana Supreme Court, died Sunday.

Valentine's Day can be traced to ancient Rome and the Feast of Lupercalia. Roman maidens placed their names in a giant urn in the public square, and bachelors drew the name cards from the urn. Some of the maidens tried to attract attention to their own name cards by decorating them lavishly.

Hays Makes Appointments

David Tobin, an East Liverpool High School senior and son of Judge and Mrs. Louis Tobin of 1925 St. Clair Ave., has received one of two principal nominations from Congressman Wayne L. Hays for appointment to the U. S. Military Academy for the class beginning this year.

Hays explained he was able to nominate an extra principal and five alternates for both the Military Academy and Naval Academy this year due to resignations at the schools.

Gary D. Schneidmiller, a 1965 graduate of East Liverpool High, received a fourth alternate nomination, while Lawrence W. Kelly of Toronto was given a first alternate appointment to the Military Academy.

Ernest Grogg, another East Liverpool High senior, was listed first in the nominations to the Air Force Academy. Selection is made by an all-competitive examination. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Grogg of 1712 Allison St.

Also listed for the Air Force were William G. Steedman of Toronto and Richard A. Wilson of Lisbon.

Herbert B. Alley Jr. of East Palestine was the principal nomination for the Naval Academy. James S. Keim of Lisbon and Robert Foster of Columbiana were listed as first alternates.

Hearing Slated In Beating Case

No date has been set for a hearing on assault and battery charges filed this weekend against Robert R. Hawk, 19, of Wellsville R. D. 1.

Mayor William Daugherty this morning set bond at $200 for Hawk on a complaint signed by Chief John Hephner after Hawk allegedly beat his 19-year-old wife, Dorothy, Saturday night.

Hephner said he had entered Pop's Tavern, 1701 Main St., at approximately 9:30 p. m. Saturday on another call when Hawk walked in and told proprietor Cadiz Betz, "I killed my wife, call the police."

"There's the police," Betz answered, jerking a thumb in Hephner's direction. The chief was in plainclothes.

"I just killed my wife," Hawk reportedly repeated.

Hephner took the man to the fire station in order to verify his claim and heard a radio transmission stating there was "family trouble" in the vicinity of Hawk's home.

Along with Officers Max Zahndt and Charles Potts, Hephner went to a Wells Ave. address, 100 feet from the Hawk home, where the youth's wife told them she had been beaten.

She was treated at City Hospital at the time, but admitted when she returned at 3:15 a. m. Sunday in "fair" condition with bruises of the cheek.

Patrol Auxiliary Honors 3 During Lisbon Banquet

LISBON — Three members of the Columbiana County Auxiliary of the State Highway Patrol were honored at the annual awards banquet Saturday night at the Wick Hotel.

The event is sponsored by Lisbon Post 15. The three recipients have a combined total of 1,186 man hours of duty with the patrol.

First place honors went to Adjutant Don Jackson of Leetonia R. D. 1 for the second straight year. He was credited with 264 hours of service last year.

Capt. Raymond Cunningham of East Liverpool amassed 915 points to take second place. He had 170 hours or desk duty, 15 hours of holiday desk work and eight hours special detail.

First - and second - place winners received certificates of merit. The third place award, a plaque, was presented to the auxiliaryman serving the highest total hours with uniformed officers. The recipient was Sgt. Walter Krauss of Salem, who completed 563 hours on road patrol last year.

Cpl. S. L. Smith of Post 15 was toastmaster and introduced the award winners. The presentations were made by Lt. D. S. Hartsock of the patrol's District 4 headquarters in Warren.

Beaver Man Burned

BEAVER — Robert Smith, 33, of Economy Borough was in "guarded" condition today at Sewickley Valley Hospital with first, second and third - degree burns of the arms, face and body suffered in a blaze at his home early Sunday.

Authorities said he was sitting in a chair beside a coal and wood burning stove when he apparently leaned back and the chair and his clothing ignited.

Shark-Eating Men

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The Florida fishing industry is studying ways of making shark meat palatable. When extremely fresh, and properly handled, it is believed to be palatable as a fresh fish commodity. Shark meat has been smoked successfully and it may also be produced in the salted, sundried form as "Bacalao."

Gen. Somoza Party Wins In Nicaraguan Election

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — The Somoza family's continued control over Nicaraguan politics seemed assured today as early returns indicated the expected sweeping victory for Gen. Anastasio Somoza Jr. in Sunday's presidential election.

Official returns from 101 of the 2,065 precincts gave Somoza's Nationalist Liberal party 20,729 votes to 10,483 for Dr. Fernando Aguero of the opposition Conservatives. A splinter conservative faction led by Alejandro Abaunza Marengo trailed far behind with 454 votes.

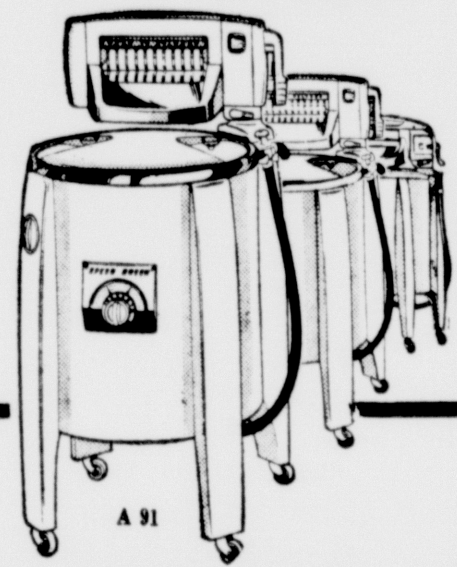

An estimated half - million votes were cast, and Somoza, 41, was expected to receive at least 60 per cent of them.

No violence was reported during the voting, but there was a deluge of opposition complaints of vote fraud.

prefer the elections be spelled out in a separate measure to head off any possible court tests later on. They indicated they would seek Democratic support to get the emergency clause back on the measure which now is marking time in a Senate committee.

Non-emergency bills require 90 days to take effect. And it already is too late to set up emergency bills. They have the votes in the Senate.

In other business, the House is scheduled to vote Tuesday on a resolution providing for Ohio's ratification of an amendment on presidential succession. Ohio is one of only about a dozen states which has not ratified the amendment to the U.S. Constitution. It sets up succession to the presidency when the president is unable to carry on the duties of the office.

Hearings will begin in the Senate Tuesday on a bill increasing from $750 to $1,500 the campaign spending limit for legislative candidates. On Wednesday, the Senate will hear measures requiring color photographs on driver licenses and mandatory driver training for 16- and 17-year-olds.

The House has Tuesday night hearings scheduled on resolutions calling for annual sessions of the legislature. The lower chamber will begin hearings Wednesday on a bill classifying sale and use of the controversial drug LSD under the state's narcotics laws.

Cleveland area and a 12-car fender-bender in Wickliffe (Lake County). There were no serious injuries reported.

One death was attributed to the storm. A Cleveland grocer, John A. Schmitz, 74, collapsed of an apparent heart attack while shoveling snow.

Interstate highways around the Cleveland area were snow covered and slippery. Two highways in Sandusky County (Ohio 53 and 12) were closed.

Further west, the Highway Department's Bowling Green headquarters said Sunday night, "we can't keep up with it." Toledo's snow crews were out most of Sunday.

The snow moved into western and central Ohio, with up to 3 or 4 inches in many localities.

Schools were closed in districts in three counties — Black River (Medina), Vermilion (Erie) and Plymouth (Richland). Also, there were reports of dozens of schools being closed in the Defiance-Van Wert areas.

The Highway Patrol said drifting snow created serious road problems in the northwest with stalled vehicles around the Fostoria area blocking snow plows from their appointed rounds Sunday night.

Dayton had 44 de-icing trucks out Sunday night. Strong winds added to difficulties throughout western Ohio, where snow amounts of a half-foot were the rule in the Grand Lake St. Marys and Indian Lake areas among others.

Dayton and Columbus both chalked up large numbers of fender-benders on snowy and ice-slick streets.

Optimism, Doubt Shown Over Gov. Shafer's Plan

HARRISBURG (AP) — The wide range of certain county row of mood among Republican leaders to be appointive rather than elective were two roadblocks in the path of the bill. No one was injured in the fire which hit the first floor apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nemec and the second - floor apartment of Mr. and Mrs. David Korn.

BEAVER—Two families were routed by a blaze which heavily damaged their two-story brick home at 453 Wilson Ave. here Sunday afternoon.

Sen. Jack E. McGregor, chairman of the Constitutional Changes Committee, said chances of his committee approving the measure, Senate Bill No. 1, were "good to excellent."

McGregor, R-Allegheny, said the bill might contain "minor amendments."

Sen. Robert D. Fleming, president pro tempore, said he was confident the bill would be reported from committee and passed by the Senate this week.

"Hopeful" was Senate Majority Leader Stanley G. Stroup's observation.

But another Republican leader said, "It's this week or let's go on to some other important matters. Mind you, I'm for it, but we've been spending a lot of time on this matter."

"It wouldn't be a defeat for the governor if this proposal would be set aside for a while," the Republican lawmaker said. "If it gets through the Senate I don't know what would happen to it in the House."

Republicans have slim margins in each chamber.

The Shafer Administration measure, which would have the voters decide if a convention should meet this summer to rewrite four parts of the constitution, thus continued to occupy most attention today as the House and Senate returned to work.

On another legislative front, the Shafer Administration was prepared to introduce in the House two bills which would abolish the Philadelphia County Court and add seven new Courts of Common Pleas in that city with three judges each.

Idea of the proposal is to reduce the big backlog of untried civil cases in Philadelphia.

The immediate snarl over the Shafer constitutional bill is a revolt of a handful of Senators in the Senate Republican Caucus.

It takes 26 votes to pass a bill and there are 27 Republicans in the Senate. The Senate Democratic caucus is solidly against the administration bill in its present form.

Democrats favor the legislature — not the voters — calling a convention to rewrite nearly all — not just four areas — of the 84-year-old constitution.

Shafer met with legislative leaders from both parties last week in an effort to reach a possible compromise over the convention idea.

It was learned over the weekend that the Senate Democrats do not look upon their preference for the legislature to call the convention as "ironclad."

"It's negotiable," the highly-placed source said. "Then, if we settle this matter, we can go on to other points in the convention proposal, step by step."

McGregor, who is carrying the constitutional ball in the Senate for Shafer, returned to Harrisburg after a weekend study of the history of past constitutional conventions.

McGregor said the bill may contain what he termed "minor amendments" if and when it is released, but he added that he was solidly opposed to "gutting of the bill."

"If the bill is altered too much I may end up opposing it on the floor," he said. "How many changes we make depends on how many we need to get a majority."

Stroup also said there was a strong possibility of amendments, but he said the changes have not yet been worked out.

Fleming agreed that the prospects of changes affecting the minor judiciary and the possibility that a convention would pro-

Two Families Routed By Flames In Beaver

BEAVER—Two families were routed by a blaze which heavily damaged their two-story brick home at 453 Wilson Ave. here Sunday afternoon.

No one was injured in the fire which hit the first floor apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nemec and the second - floor apartment of Mr. and Mrs. David Korn.

BEAVER firemen said the blaze apparently started in the basement.

Some Needs For St. Clair Ave.

When the old St. Clair Ave. is recalled, the new St. Clair becomes an ever greater revelation.

But even with the $789,500 improvement, the thoroughfare still offers problems.

City officials are making plans to install special signals which will provide for more efficient use of outer St. Clair at peak traffic flow periods — an original condition for obtaining federal money for the project.

There also has been some preliminary discussion about improvement of lower St. Clair Ave., which is among the worst bottlenecks in the city, not only at peak hours but at almost any time.

THE NARROW angled street with its uneven surface is made hazardous by cars parked at various intervals.

The steep grade slows heavy trucks and buses and tests the patience of motorists trapped behind them, establishing a travel pattern more suited to the 1920's than the present.

Permitting parking on outer St. Clair Ave. is another wasteful anachronism — use of 1½ miles of a 12-foot strip of concrete, valued at $263,200, for five or six car owners.

Here is not only an expensive modern roadway not fully utilized, but here is a real hazard which already has brought a number of injuries and heavy property damage, and sooner or later could cause death.

These few parked autos force drivers into dangerous mergers of lines of traffic, and at one intersection — Maplewood Ave. — obstruct a motorist's view on entering St. Clair Ave.

SOME COUNCILMEN agree on the need for eliminating parking on outer St. Clair. Such a ban would lower considerably the cost of the planned traffic signal installation by reducing the number required to have two lanes open south in the mornings and two north in the late afternoons.

We urge that such a ban on parking be ordered — not only as a saving of money for the signals, but to eliminate a serious hazard.

We also urge city officials to follow through as quickly as possible for a general improvement of lower St. Clair.

This traffic artery is a primary route in the city and must be made a safe and modern means of travel in and out of the downtown area for the convenience of all of our residents and visitors and for aiding the growth and development of the community.

Glimmer Of Hope

For years the pottery industry has been pounding at the door of administrations in Washington in an effort to obtain greater tariff protection to help combat the inroads of foreign competition.

And for years industry spokesmen have met with little success, despite a capable presentation of their case.

There may be a glimmer of hope, however, in reports that the iron and steel industry is about to abandon its free trade stand and demand increased tariff protection to curb imports that have been cutting into its markets.

With a major industry such as iron and steel vitally concerned, and apparently ready to take action, it could mean that the voice of the smaller pottery industry may command more attention.

The development should serve as an encouraging note for those who make the next trip to Capitol Hill on behalf of the ware-producing plants.

Safety Toughies Turn Mild

The threatened drastic measures in safety standards for new automobiles turned out to be rather mild.

Most of the proposals already are in use by auto makers either as standard equipment or as optional features. The standards will serve as a means of getting the features on the cheaper models.

The mild proposals will have limited impact on the industry.

Perhaps safety experts got the message.

Maybe someone told them a good, conscientious driver can handle a "safety-stripped" model in as much safety as one that is fully "safety equipped."

Likewise, a scowling or drunk or careless driver will smack up the "safety-equipped" car with the same ease as the standard model.

The value of safety equipment is that it may prevent severe injuries or death when careless knuckleheads plow into innocent law-observing motorists.

Now that the ruckus over safety standards has quieted maybe some attempt will be made to get chronic accident causers off the highways.

Our highways never will be 100 per cent safe. With the millions of vehicles that use our nation's arteries today, there are going to be collisions.

But the odds can be reduced significantly if effective measures are taken to get the scowflaws out from behind the wheel.

This can be accomplished only through a law that costs a scowflaw not only his driver license but also the license plates for his car.

Happy marriages have been broken up by the shattering realization that one of the partners looks as out of place in the new setting as an old chair with its springs broken and its arm rests worn through.

And all because someone started to refurbish a ramshackle nest.

It would be better to let well enough alone and keep on tripping over tag ends of worn-out carpeting, stuffing rags in the broken windows, making allowances for hardware that won't work and doors that won't shut.

Perhaps it never was intended that man should improve his lot, because to do so only reveals him to be a creature of habit who betrays his nature only at risk of losing his composure and his life's savings.

All Fouled Up!

NEW YORK

President Johnson came out against air pollution last week, and it was hard for even the Republicans to attack him on it. This country may be divided on many things, but it seems to be in almost total agreement that it is against air pollution.

Where everyone parts company is when you try to place the blame on those suspected of causing it.

The other day I went around New York City talking to people who may or may not have something to do with poisoning the air.

"It certainly isn't us," said the director of a utilities company. "Why, the fuel we burn could hardly cause an ounce of pollution. We get all the blame because everyone can see our smokestacks, but do you know what comes out of those smokestacks?"

"What?" I asked.

"Good, clean byproducts. I breathe it every day. If you ask me, it's those refineries over there in New Jersey that are causing all the air pollution around here."

I WENT OVER to New Jersey to talk to a refinery executive.

"It's typical of people in New York to blame New Jersey for their troubles. We have tests to prove that we're responsible for less than .005 per cent of the air pollution in the area. You won't find better air than that right here at the refinery. If you want to know the real cause of air pollution, go over to the garbage dumps. That's where they're making all the smog."

I drove over to a large garbage dump located in a swamp. The man in charge was indignant when I said he was suspected of polluting the air.

"We only burn garbage twice a day," he said angrily, "and most of the smoke blows out to sea. Heck, we've been burning garbage for years and no one has complained before. You know what I think is causing all the air pollution? Those darn automobiles. You watch the fumes come out of the exhaust of a car, and you know where the poison's coming from."

I went back to New York to talk to a representative of the auto industry, who retorted, "They're blaming the automobile for everything these days. We're becoming the patsy of the United States. Pretty soon it will be our fault that we're in Vietnam. Let me tell you something. The automobile is clean, as clean as we can make it, and anyone who says differently is trying to hurt the economy of this country. Besides, it isn't automobiles that are spewing out all that filth. It's diesel engines on buses and trucks. They do all the damage, and the automobile gets all the blame."

I WAS DIRECTED to a spokesman for the trucking and bus industry.

"Lies, all lies," he said. "One chemical factory makes more smog in an hour than all our trucks and buses make in a week. Go visit one and see for yourself."

I took a ride over to a chemical factory.

"It isn't us. It's the steel people. I have a sample here of polluted air. It comes directly from a foundry. Whatever you see coming out of our chimneys actually purifies the air."

The steel people told me the real cause of air pollution was the airplanes taking off and landing at La Guardia Field. And the airplane people told me the railroads around New York caused most of the smog.

By this time I was coughing pretty hard, and I wasn't too sure that I wanted to pursue the subject, so I decided to stop into a large hospital for an X-ray. As I walked toward it I noticed three chimneys in the back of the hospital spewing out large amounts of black smoke.

I mentioned this to the doctor who was examining me.

"Yes," he said, "that's our powerhouse. We need it to treat our patients who are suffering from polluted air."

Kennan's Thoughts

WASHINGTON

George F. Kennan is a good example of how the world has changed in 20 years. It's not so tense, but it's still puzzled, even if Kennan doesn't seem to be.

In 1947 Kennan — signing himself "Mr. X" — suggested in the magazine Foreign Affairs that the United States halt communism by adopting a tough, go-no-further policy. He was then director of the State Department's policy planning staff.

The United States adopted the policy, which goes under the nice-Nellie name "Containment," and has followed it since.

In 1947 Stalin was still alive and the Chinese communists were only two years away from taking over the China mainland. Gone was any postwar hope that East-West problems could be settled by sweet reasonableness.

The Soviet Union had gobbled up the East European countries, turning them into a batch of communized, subservient satellites. The Soviets were pressuring Turkey. Red guerrillas had tried to take over Greece. And the U.S.S.R. was using West European Communist parties to work their way in France and Italy.

IT WAS A tense, grim, dark time. But the idea of getting tough with the Soviets wasn't new with Kennan. He happened to speak up at the right time to get action.

As early as 1945, fed up with Stalin, President Harry S. Truman said it was time to stop babying the Soviets. And Winston Churchill, in his "iron curtain" speech of 1946, urged the West to stop the U.S.S.R. in its tracks.

Kennan regarded his "containment" proposal as a temporary necessity. He was optimistic about the future. He thought that if this country put the Soviets under enough pressure they would eventually be forced into moderation. The "gradual mellowing of Soviet power," he called it.

By James Marlow

The United States created the Marshal Plan for hauling Western Europe out of poverty and made a series of military alliances around the world, the strongest being NATO in Europe, as a shield against Red pushes anywhere.

Kennan had good vision. In the 20 years since he wrote his piece the Soviet Union has become more moderate, its earlier frenzy has subsided. Its pressure on Western Europe has stopped although, while it has gained no new ground in Europe, it has yielded none. Still independent nationalism has grown in its satellites. In short, Europe has calmed down.

Meanwhile, the United States, dedicated to containment worldwide, has fought two wars to stop any Communist grabs. In Korea and Vietnam. Nevertheless in Asia communism did grab successfully in China and North Vietnam. Yet, both those places are in turmoil. In North Vietnam because of the war with the United States, in China because of its internal convulsions.

FOR A WHILE the emergence of Red China, and its link with the U.S.S.R., looked like the most ominous development for the West in this century. But now the Red Chinese seem as hostile to the Soviets as to the United States and so far as anyone knows may be falling apart.

For some time now Kennan has felt his containment policy had outlived its usefulness as he first envisioned it. Recently he said drawing the line against communism has been outdated by the big split in the communist world.

He thinks now the United States may be able to deal with the U.S.S.R. peacefully. To that extent, his hone of 20 years ago that the Soviets would mellow a bit has turned out to be true.

Nevertheless, the unpredictability of communism is a puzzle, and even though Kennan seems optimistic, not even he can be positive that in another day and under new circumstances the Soviet Union won't revert to what it was in an earlier day.

Reischauer

By David Lawrence

He Has To Be Wrong

It's tough to be an American military commander these days, especially in Vietnam.

No matter what the enemy does in attacking by mortar fire or bombs the villages and towns where American soldiers and civilians are stationed, news reports tell our armed forces that prominent persons in America are saying the United States shouldn't retaliate by bombing the enemy's strongholds. This might be a "psychological" mistake.

Edwin O. Reischauer, who recently resigned as U.S. ambassador to Japan, testified before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee last Tuesday. He said of the bombing of North Vietnam:

"Here is a psychological blunder on our part: the notion that we bring them to the negotiating table by making it painful enough. This is just a complete psychological misunderstanding."

On the same day Mr. Reischauer was testifying, the Premier of South Korea, which has sent troops to Vietnam, said in a public statement the United States should continue its present bombing operations because he believes this will hasten the start of peace negotiations.

Mr. Reischauer, now a professor at Harvard, is chairman of the State Department's new panel of advisers on East Asia and Pacific affairs.

He has had an opportunity to study the currents of opinion in Asia and says he agrees in general with American objectives but differs somewhat in how they should be attained.

NO GOVERNMENT around the world, of course, likes to have a foreign army come to its continent and become involved there.

International law, however, does say that, whenever an existing government seeks assistance of another power and asks that military forces be sent to help repel aggression, it is proper for such aid to be given.

The forces of the United States are in Vietnam to help a small nation which requested our intervention.

It is a realistic fact, too often overlooked, that both Red China and the Soviet Union have from the very beginning been furnishing military supplies to support the guerrilla war against South Vietnam.

Nothing was said by Mr. Reischauer about the "psychological blunder" of the Soviets or the Red Chinese. He was thinking solely in terms of the criticisms he must have heard in Asia while ambassador to Japan — namely, that the United States is at least a quasi-imperialistic power seeking dominion and military advantage.

Mr. Reischauer is a good "Morday-morning" quarterback. "He says the United States should not have gotten into Vietnam in the first place. He refers to 1954, when Vietnam was divided."

The United States, however, issued its protest then and warned the world that sooner or later a catastrophe would come because aggressors were still grabbing territory and infiltrating other countries.

Unquestionably, it would be helpful if Asians took care of their own affairs and Europeans did likewise. But in a world in which military and economic power is still decisive, aggression against small nations can hardly be ignored.

Mr. Reischauer presents a paradox when he says:

"We should not sponsor political, social, or economic change in Asian countries, though we should be responsive to requests from them for aid in carrying out such changes, whenever we judge that these changes would help in the healthy development of these countries and that our aid could usefully contribute to this end."

BUT IF THE United States doesn't sponsor social or economic changes and doesn't promise its aid, what other country will do this for the Asian continent?

Mr. Reischauer says the United States "should not seek to play the role of leader in Asia, rallying allies to our policies, but should attempt to withdraw to the role of a friendly outside supporter of individual or collective Asian initiatives."

This is precisely what President Johnson has tried to do.

Nothing would please the U.S. government more than to have Asians take care of their own affairs.

But as long as there are dictatorships and autocracies that possess nuclear power in Asia and Europe, the United States cannot desert the small nations of the world and fail to provide assistance for them.

and another driven by Patrick Ross, 62, of 201 S. Market St., Lisbon.

Crum, charged with driving left of center, was treated at City Hospital for lacerations of the scalp and chin.

Awetta Metzgar, 25, of 25th St. Heights was injured when the car in which she was a passenger struck the rear of another on Route 39 about four miles west of Wellsville at 6 p. m.

She was in a 1964 compact driven by Larry Metzgar, 27, of 25th St. Heights which hit the rear of one operated by Vonda Logan, 24, of 614 15th St., Wellsville, who had stopped for another making a turn.

Metzgar was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Autos driven by Lewis Pelley, 17, of 18th St. Heights, Wellsville, and Donna Mobley, 19, of 1797 Clark Ave., Wellsville, collided on Route 39 about a fifth of a mile west of Wellsville at 4:15 p. m.

Officers said Pelley slowed to make a turn and was hit from the rear by the woman's car. Pelley and Dale Mobley Jr., 10 months, a passenger in the woman's car, were treated at Osteopathic Hospital.

She was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

TWO EAST PALESTINE area drivers were injured in a mishap on Route 170 just north of Negley at 2:36 p. m.

Autos operated by Russell Biggins, 59, of 86 Wood St., East Palestine, and Russell Shaw, 37, of East Palestine R. D. 1 hit head-on at a curve, the patrol said.

Shaw was headed north in a 1965 auto and went left of center on the curve, hitting the other auto headed south. There was severe damage to both autos. Shaw was charged with driving left of center.

Donald Taffini, 22, of 233 W. Maple St., Lisbon, escaped injury when his 1967 auto ran off Route 14 a half mile west of Route 46 and struck a stop sign at 2:45 a. m.

No one was reported hurt in a crash involving autos of Ray Keenan, 55, of S. Shady Ln. and Kenneth Cusick, 19, of Lisbon R. D. 2 on Route 30 about three miles south of West Point at 1:15 p. m.

Officers said Cusick was headed south and Keenan north when the latter made a left turn in the path of the other. Keenan was charged with failure to yield the right of way.

Melvin Freeze, 29, of 528 Jefferson St., Lisbon, was unhurt when his Jeep, headed south on Route 164 near Columbiana, skidded on the snow and struck a guardrail.

Clarice Moore, 20, of Glenmoor and Gloria Cusick, 16, of R. D. 2, were shaken when their car hit the side of a bridge on Route 154 about a half-mile west of Rogers at 5:05 p. m. The Moore woman was headed east when she lost control and the 1963 hit the bridge, receiving severe damage.

Charles Gunderman, 54, of Cleveland was injured when his car struck the rear of another on Route 7 about a half mile north of Rogers at 6:50 p. m.

Officers said his auto struck the rear of one operated by Elizabeth Shelton, 28, of Wheeling which was halted partially on the roadway.

Patrick Cumberledge, 23, of Lorain was cited after his 1966 auto went off Route 7 about three miles north of East Fairfield and struck a road sign. He lost control when pulling out to pass another auto. Officers charged him with speeding in excess of safe road conditions.

NO ONE was injured in a collision involving cars operated by Neal Pasco, 17, of Rayland, Marsha Kanuf, 21, of Cleveland and Louis Sopik, 21, of Cleveland on Route 7 about a half-mile north of Rogers at 7:50.

Pasco, headed south, skidded left of center into the Sopik and Kanuf autos, officers said.

Richard Dunn, 17, of East Liverpool R. D. 2 was unhurt when his 1964 auto, headed north, rounded a curve on Route 7 about four miles north of Route 30 at 3:20 p. m. and struck an embankment.

Elizabeth Williams, 16, of East Liverpool R. D. 1 escaped injury Saturday night when her car hit a road sign at the intersection of Route 558 and Route 46 near New Waterford. She was charged with speeding.

David Sutherin, 20, of Rogers R. D. 1 and a passenger in his car, Gary Quetot, 14, of Rogers R. D. 1 were injured when Sutherin's 1963 auto went off County Rd. 426 a mile east of Route 7, hit an embankment and rolled over Saturday at 1:30 a. m. restaurant on Route 30. She told Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan the robber had a rifle.

Her description of the bandit and an investigation by the sheriff's office led to apprehension of the suspect three days later in Mobile, Ala.

Frederick L. Meek, 18, of Lisbon, scheduled for trial this morning on a charge of operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent, changed his plea to guilty before a jury was seated.

Judge Sharp sentenced him to 10 days in the County Jail and ordered him to make restitution for damages to the car owner, Dale E. Brown of Lisbon.

James D. Primm Jr., assistant prosecuting attorney, said Meek took the vehicle Dec. 10 from the Hi Neighbor Dance Barn near Salem and had an accident shortly afterward in Salem.

Parts Taken From Cars

A. L. Moore of 231 25th St., Wellsville, told police Sunday afternoon parts have been stripped from three vehicles parked at his rental property at 1932 Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. He said the cars were left at the site by persons who formerly rented the property. The thieves took the generator, voltage regulator and radiator from a 1956 panel truck owned by Alfonso Augalia of Pittsburgh, the radiator and a bumper jack of a 1956 car owned by Thomas Shields of 1608 Alpha St. and the heater radiator and radio out of another 1956 car also owned by Shields, he said.

tem in the county are plowed and ashed.

East Liverpool street department crews were called to work Sunday afternoon, scattering ashes and salt and using the front of several trucks. The work continued throughout the night.

Major thoroughfares this morning were covered with hard-packed snow on which traffic moved slowly but without difficulty.

Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodyrey said the street department used its snowplows to clear areas near curbs in many downtown stretches, freeing parking spots. The work could be done readily Sunday afternoon and night because of the relatively low volume of traffic and parking.

Street crews were operating in Wellsville between 6:30 p.m. Sunday and 12:30 a.m. today, and were out again later this morning. Mayor William Daugherty said.

The mayor said entrances to the city from the northern and southern arteries, Routes 39 and 45, the Cemetery Road and the MacDonald Heights area were all salted and scraped.

Ashes have been used to make roads passable, only when necessary, the mayor added, because of the residue left after snow mop-up operations.

Answering a rumor, the mayor denied that water service was ever in danger of being curtailed or shut off. "The pressure is normal, our large tank is filled, and water is to the top of the spillway." Daugherty said.

He added that water was to be used at Central Park on 13th St. later in an attempt to launch ice-skating activities at Wellsville. A concession stand and floodlights have been erected.

Huge piles of snow around the Square attest to the work of the Lisbon street department. A tractor-trailer was tied up on the N. Market St. hill (Route 45) for two hours early today at the county seat.

A strong north wind drifted east-west roads. Drift fences in the county are set up for the prevailing west winds.

All schools in Hancock County were open today as usual, it was reported by the Board of Education office at New Cumberland.

The West Virginia Road Commission garage at Pughtown reported all roads passable in the county, with a few icy spots on primary roads and crews working to clear secondary roads. Crews worked during the night to keep main roads open.

Snowfall in the Millport area amounted to five inches, Edwin Copeland, U.S. Weather observer, reported.

The fall varied elsewhere, and winds had piled drifts up to two feet deep in some locations.

Copeland said the temperature dipped to 11 degrees overnight.

Automobiles make up more than 50 per cent of all property stolen annually in the U.S.

23 Firms Unite For 'Reliability' Of Power Supply

Twenty-three investor-owned electric companies in eight east central states, including the Ohio Power Co., have joined in an agreement having as its single objective the maximum reliability of their bulk electric power supply.

It is the first arrangement of its kind ever undertaken. The 23 utilities, serving a population of 25 million in an area of 154,000 square miles, today announced the signing of the East Central Area Reliability Coordination Agreement.

J. LEE RICE JR., president of the Allegheny Power System and acting chairman and spokesman for the group, said that the agreement establishes the machinery for review and evaluation of the member companies' plans and operating practices as they pertain to reliability of power supply.

In the words of the agreement, its purpose is "further to augment reliability of the parties' bulk power supply through coordination of the parties' planning and operation of their generation and transmission facilities."

The 23 companies have combined assets of almost $7 billion and last year had combined energy sales of 156 billion kilowatt hours. They operate power plants with a total generating capability of 28.7 million kilowatts — roughly equal to all of France — and 20,200 circuit miles of high-voltage transmission lines.

Further, new facilities now under construction or authorized through 1972 will add 14.6 million kilowatt hours of capacity and 4,560 miles of high-voltage transmission lines.

THE ECAR companies provide electric service in all or parts of the states of Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and Michigan.

The present group includes all of the investor-owned utilities in the area. ECAR expects, however, to add two companies in Michigan when interconnection facilities already authorized are completed.

Rice distinguished the agreement from "power pooling" and other concepts that mark existing interconnection agreements involving electric utilities.

"While economies can be achieved through such pooling and interchange arrangements among several companies operating in relatively small areas," he explained, "the ECAR companies believe that maximum bulk power supply reliability can only be effectively achieved among electric systems within a major area of reasonable geographical boundaries."

He continued, "The companies in this agreement feel strongly that the best insurance against a widespread regional power failure lies in ECAR's review of all major programs of construction of each of the group's members prior to their commitment."

Second Drill Set On Feb. 16

A second unit drill will be held Feb. 16 at 7:30 p.m. in City Hall for the newly reorganized Company A, 7th Bn., 68th Armor reinforcement training unit of the 83rd Division.

Sgt. IC John B. Scales said 12 men have requested assignments. They are Sgt. IC John E. Chavis Jr., 442 1st Ave.; Sgt. IC Vincent E. Ferlano, 2041 Michigan Ave.; Scales, Homestead Dr.; S.Sgt. Fred A. McCoy, Densmore Ave.

S. Sgt. Eugene C. Petty, 547 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville; Sgt. Joe Danko, 5 1st St., Newell; Sgt. Richard T. Enoch, 1027 Center St., Wellsville; Pfc. Ronald W. Kennedy, 1609 Cleveland Ave.; Pfc. Dewey M. McPherson, 607 Knowle's Alley, Chester; Pfc. Thomas J. Wiegand, 410 Palissey St., and Pfc. Ronald K. Broadbent, 973 Ohio Ave.

Capt. Frank L. Zupp of Youngstown is commanding officer of Co. A. The 83rd Division was often manned with area residents. The group met last Thursday to afford reservists an opportunity to attend drills with a local unit.

Sled Mishap Injures Girl

A girl injured in a sled mishap and a woman hurt in a fall down steps were admitted over the weekend to City Hospital, where 13 other area residents were treated in emergencies.

Suzanne Jolly, daughter of Herbert Jolly of 148 Center St., was in "fair" condition with fractured ribs suffered when the sled she was riding struck a pole. She was admitted Sunday night.

Mrs. Dessie Allison of 404 Almont St. was in "fairly good" condition with bruises of the forehead and shoulder received in a fall down steps. She was admitted Saturday night.

Others treated Sunday were David Bates, son of Mrs. Jane Bates of 938 Railroad St., a fractured wrist in a fall while roller skating; Scott Chamberlin, son of Richard Chamberlin, bruises suffered when knocked against a door at home while playing with his dog.

Thomas McElroy of 612 Owens Rd., Wellsville, bruises and cuts of the finger when a stone fell; Brenton Elkins of Windsor Dr., a cut on the right hand at home on a garbage device.

John Headlund, son of Arnold Headlund of Mort Dr., Glenmoor, a fractured finger while playing with his brother; Rebecca Green, daughter of John Green of 1020 Dresden Ave., a shoulder injury in a fall at church.

Treated Saturday were Mrs. Sylvia Blazer of 1314 Pennsylvania Ave., bruises suffered in a fall backward down steps in the cellar; Cathi Sue Cronin, daughter of Charles Cronin of Holliday St., cuts of the fingers in a car door.

Daniel Diddle, son of Thomas Diddle of Annesley Rd., a cut finger on a piece of glass; William Fleming, son of William Fleming of LaCroft Ave., a fractured arm in a sled-riding fall.

Harry Buckley of 944 Fairview St., an employee of the Beriman Iron and Steel Co., a cut on the forehead when struck by a piece of metal; Anthony Cook, son of James Cook of Carolina Ave., a cut lip in a fall at home.

Thomas Butler Jr. of Church St., Glenmoor, an injury to the right hand in a fall.

People In News

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Robert Penn Warren, two-time winner of the Pulitzer Prize, has been awarded the $5,000 Bollingen Prize in poetry — considered by many the most prestigious in the field.

The announcement was made Sunday by James Tanis, librarian of Yale University, which administers the prize awarded every other year.

Warren was honored for "Selected Poems, New and Old, 1923-1966."

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Singer Eddie Fisher said in Miami Beach, Fla., he saw shapely Connie Stevens walk across a crowded lobby in New York recently and said to himself: "That's for me."

He said that, despite two marriages and a disclaimer that "by striking out twice, I've learned."

Fisher, 38, and Miss Stevens, 29, made their engagement official Saturday at a party at the Fontainebleau Hotel.

14 More Killed In Ohio Traffic

By The Associated Press
A Preble County auto smash-up Sunday killing five young persons constituted one of Ohio's worst traffic accidents since seven died in a collision last Oct. 23 — about three miles away.

The head-on crash on U.S. 127 north of Eaton Sunday primarily involving teen-agers and two double fatalities in which all victims were teen-agers ran the state's toll for the weekend to at least 14.

All occurred before heavy snow moved in on most of the state, creating hazardous conditions but slowing motorists down.

Three girls headed for work at a truck stop on Route 127 near the Interstate 70 and U.S. 40 junctions, and the 19-year-old driving them in his convertible, died in the wreck near the U.S. 40 tragedy scene of October. So did a 17-year-old girl in the station wagon into which the convertible swerved head-on, injuring her husband, 17, and her mother.

In Akron, meanwhile, where three youths were killed in a drag racing incident last summer, police continued a hunt today for a car believed drag racing yesterday with an auto that carried two more youths to their death.

Officers said one car fled the accident scene in Sunday's pre-dawn darkness with its lights out — leaving a boy and girl dead or dying and another youth seriously injured after the other car rammed a utility pole at more than 60 miles per hour on the Rubber City's South Main Street.

Deaths reported since noon Saturday:

2 Seen 'Fair' In Auto Crash

Two of the four young people injured Saturday night when an auto skidded into a utility pole in West End remained in "fair" condition today at City Hospital.

They are Terry Wolfe, 17, son of Eugene Wolfe of 106 W. Drury Ln., who suffered a possible skull fracture and a lacerated finger, and Mary Anne Rivelle, 17, daughter of Dominic Rivelle of 1311 Main St., Wellsville, who suffered lacerations of the lower right jaw and the face.

Police said the 1966 two-door sedan was driven by Denise A. Dysert, 16, of 1611 Buckeye Ave. It crashed into a utility pole on W. 8th St. at Church St. Saturday at 11:23 p. m., officers reported.

Miss Dysert was released after treatment for contusions of the right arm and abrasions and contusions of the left knee. A third passenger, Keith Matheny, 17, of 1004 St. Clair Ave., step-son of Charles Trowbridge, was treated for a laceration of the upper lip.

Miss Dysert told police she had just turned off Shady Side Ave. onto the four-lane stretch of W. 8th St. when the auto began to slide and struck the pole.

Women of the church will meet at 11:30 a. m. Thursday for Holy Communion. There will be a sack lunch at noon and a program afterward with Rev. Webster in charge.

How Can I?
By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I remedy plastic curtains that are wrinkled after being washed and dried?

A.—Lay them on a smooth surface, such as a table or the floor, and cover them with magazines. Leave them this way overnight or a little longer, and they will look as though they had been ironed — which is an advantage, since plastic cannot be ironed.

Q.—How can I prevent fat or oil from spattering out of my frying pan?

A.—A little salt sprinkled in your frying pan will usually prevent these "eruptions."

Q.—How can I clean black, smoky ceilings?

A.—With a cloth dipped in warm water containing washing soda. Dissolve a tablespoon of washing soda in about a quart of warm water. Mix well.

Q.—Any tips for the loosening of tight screws or bolts?

A.—Try placing a few drops of peroxide on them and letting this soak in for a few minutes.

The bodies of a South Dakota rancher and his wife were found Sunday in the icy waters of a creek, only a few hundred feet from their home. Police said the couple had abandoned their car in a snowstorm, then fell through the ice while crossing the stream.

A search party, alerted by reports of an abandoned car, found another South Dakota man wandering in a field in 4-below-zero temperatures. The man, Walter Leidell, died on the way to a hospital.

In Cleveland and Chicago and other cities, several persons, mostly elderly, died in front of their homes while shoveling snow. Doctors said the deaths were probably due to heart attacks.

A Chicago woman died Saturday when she was hit by a snowplow. At St. Bonifacius, Minn., a student at Jesuit College was struck by a car and killed while walking in blinding snow along Minnesota 7.

Snow plows cleared the streets of cities along both shores of Lake Erie. In Detroit new snow powdered heavily iced streets and made driving, or even walking, hazardous. Few residential streets were free of snow and many drivers bogged down in front of their own homes. The Sunday night snowstorm created a massive traffic pileup at Olympia Stadium before and after the National Hockey league game between Detroit and Montreal.

Cincinnati also reported new snow on icy streets.

Aliquippa Death Tied To Smoke Inhalation

BEAVER — Smoke inhalation was listed as the cause of the death of Mrs. Allie Hill, 74, of Plan 11, Aliquippa, whose clothing ignited in her small two-room apartment Saturday afternoon about 2:15.

Mrs. Hill apparently bumped against a gas heater stove and knocked it over and the flames ignited the hem of her housecoat. She attempted to get to the kitchen door, but collapsed by a sink, Mearl Bozett, deputy Beaver County coroner, said.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The poet laureate of England is the official poet of His Majesty's Court. He is responsible for producing appropriate verses for noted state occasions. Although no authentic record exists as to its origin, the post is known to have been held by Geoffrey Chaucer (1340-1400) who received a small pension and a yearly allowance of wine for his work. William Wordsworth and Alfred Tennyson were also poets laureate. Since 1940, the post has been held by John Masefield.

$5,348 Collected During Hancock Yule Seal Drive

A total of $5,348 has been collected to date in Hancock County during the annual Christmas Seal campaign, according to Mrs. Lowell W. Austin of Weirton, executive secretary of the Hancock County Tuberculosis League.

Contributions still are being accepted by the following community chairmen:

Mrs. F. N. Richmond, Chester; Mrs. Robert S. Carnahan, Newell; Mrs. Paul A. Wern, Pughtown; Mrs. Earle Bell, New Cumberland, and Mrs. Austin, Weirton.

The $5,348 figure compares with $5,940 received in the entire 1965 campaign, Mrs. Austin said.

The campaign, which began in November, will continue through March, she explained.

Incumbents List Slate

Open Primary Promised
By Beaver's Democrats

BEAVER — An open Democrat primary in Beaver County, without endorsements of the county Democrat committee, was promised over the weekend by incumbent party officials in announcing the slate for the May balloting.

County Commissioner Eli Corak, chairman of the county committee and a candidate for reelection, said the incumbent officials would not seek the endorsement of the committee in the campaign.

THE SLATE announced includes:

County Commissioners James E. Ross, Beaver, and Corak, Midland.

Prothonotary Anthony J. Kubik, Aliquippa.

Clerk of Courts Kathleen W. Evans, Rochester.

Register of Wills John L. Neely, Rochester.

Sheriff John W. Hineman Jr., Brighton Township.

County Surveyor Sheldon E. (Bunner) Lewis, East Rochester.

District Atty. Robert J. Masters, Midland, candidate for Judge of Common Pleas Court, the office now held by Republican Judge James E. Rowley by appointment.

Atty. Clarence D. Neish, mayor of Aliquippa, seeking the Democrat nomination for district attorney.

County Welfare Director Paul Doughty, Hopewell Township, candidate for the party nomination for county treasurer.

County Treasurer Floree J. Aquino, Ambridge, who cannot succeed himself in that office, candidate for the office of recorder of deeds, now held by Republican Thomas P. Murray, Ambridge.

Mayor James G. Camp, Rochester, candidate for the party nomination for the office of county controller, which is now held by James F. Tress, Chippewa Township. Tress announced this week that he will not seek re-election.

Trustees Hear Talk
On Road Dust Control

Rod Goodyear of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., discussed the use of liquid calcium chloride for summer dust control on township roads when the Franklin Township trustees met Saturday night in the hall.

George McPherson, president, reported that slag had been spread on township roads. Bills totaling $1,951 were reported paid.

Forrest Young, constable, gave the January report of 316 miles patrolled; one accident investigated; 19 telephone calls received; two warnings issued; and one car towed off a township road.

The next meeting will be Feb. 19 at the hall.

90-Day Term
Given To Man
In Wire Case

A 22-year-old East End man was sentenced to 90 days in County Jail and fined $100 and costs today in Municipal Court after Judge Samuel M. Chertoff found him guilty of a misdemeanor rather than a felony, as the state had charged, in allegedly "receiving and concealing" a large quantity of copper wire stolen from a Middleton Township coal mine Jan. 21.

The sentence was imposed on Harold William Boyd of 724 Price St., who was named in an affidavit signed by Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan. The sheriff alleged the wire was stolen from the Ronald Crawford mine along Route 7 south of Rogers and then sold to Paul Berman, operator of an East Liverpool scrap yard.

The question of a misdemeanor or felony turned on the value of the property involved. The sheriff's affidavit alleged the wire was worth $60, which would have made the violation a felony in which the defendant could have been bound to the Grand Jury.

Robert A. Kapp, defense counsel, concentrated on showing the value of the property was under $60, which would make the case a misdemeanor that could be disposed of finally in the local court. Boyd pleaded not guilty.

He did not take the stand and the defense did not call any other witnesses after the state's case was presented.

Crawford, co-owner of the mine, was first to testify. He said the loss included 406 feet of insulated wire, 200 feet of trolley wire and two 150-foot lengths of wire taken from a coal cutting machine.

Frank Kraft, 19, of Center St. testified he was approached by Boyd to sell the wire at the Berman scrap yard. He said Boyd asked him to pick up the wire behind "an old house" on Price St. and take it to the junk yard. Kraft said he received $63 for the property, but under cross-examination he said he also sold an auto radiator and three car batteries. He said Boyd paid him $2.

Before pronouncing sentence, the judge said he was unable to determine the value of the wire allegedly involved and therefore would find Boyd guilty of a misdemeanor rather than a felony.

Church Group Holds
Installation Service

CLARKSON — The Women's Association of the Clarkson United Presbyterian Church will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the social room.

Robert Welce was among officers of the unicameral board installed at the church by the Rev. L. Earl Barthlow.

Others installed were John Todd, Paul Lipp, Clarence Hole and Elmer Betts.

Cruiser Delivered

LISBON — Lehman Ford Sales delivered a new cruiser to the village police department at 9 a.m. Sunday. It replaces a 1965 Ford that logged over 66,000 miles.

American Art
Student Held
In Red Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — Peter Feinauer, 27, an art student from Providence, R.I., has been held by authorities in East Berlin for the past four months, his mother said Sunday night.

Juergen Stange, a West Berlin lawyer representing Feinauer, said the East Germans are still investigating the case and have filed no charges. He said Feinauer was not accused of helping East Germans escape to the West.

Victoria Feinauer, a widow, said her son has been detained since Oct. 7. She said they came to West Berlin in 1959 and he studied art. Feinauer was born in Providence, attended high school there and is a Quaker, his mother said.

Four other Americans were released from East German prisons three days ago. One of the four, Mary Hellen Battle, 26, a theology student from Oak Ridge, Tenn., said Sunday a telegram from a young East Berlin man led to her four-year sentence on charges that she helped an East German try to escape. She served 14 months.

Two of the others, Frederick Matthews, 24, Elwood City, Pa., and Moses Reese Herrin, 25, Akron, Ohio, were jailed for helping East German refugees. William Lovett, 26, San Francisco, was imprisoned following a traffic accident.

Miss Battle said she received the telegram from the East Berliner Nov. 24, 1965.

"I had gotten to know him earlier in East Berlin," she said, "and I had made an appointment to see his mother that day, anyway, to bring her some things I thought the telegram concerned that visit. So I went."

She said that when she met the man she learned for the first time that he had deserted from the army. She said she would not have gone to East Berlin if she had known that.

Miss Battle was arrested when she visited the man's mother. She said previous conversations with the man about an unsuccessful attempt he made to flee East Germany apparently helped to convict her. No romance was involved, she said.

Civic Club To Meet

SUMMITVILLE — James Carnahan of Minerva will be guest speaker during a meeting of the Summitville Women's Civic Club Wednesday night at 8:30 with Mrs. James Dangelo of Summitville.

The typical American sends not one but five Valentines, according to an estimate by Hallmark Cards.

WOMEN OFTEN HAVE BLADDER IRRITATION

Common Kidney or Bladder Irritations affect twice as many women as men, often causing tenderness and nervousness from frequent, burning, itching urination. 6 Auto Accidents Blamed On Snow

The deep snow accumulation was blamed directly or indirectly for most of the six crashes that marred East Liverpool traffic on the weekend, injuring two persons.

A young woman passenger was hurt when a car struck a curb on the River Rd. just east of the Chester Bridge Sunday night at 6:45, then veered across the highway and rammed into a metal pole, police reported.

The collision damaged the left side of a 1960 sedan driven by Everett Horner, 63, of 135 Beechwood St.

Joan Greathouse, 20, also of 135 Beechwood St., was taken to City Hospital as an aftermath of the crash. She was treated for bruises of the left forearm and the side of the face.

HORNER TOLD Lt. Charles E. (Bill) Tice he was driving about two-tenths of a mile east of the bridge when oncoming traffic crowded his car to the right, causing it to strike the curb. The auto then veered to the north side of the street and struck a pole, police said.

Another 20-year-old woman was injured in a two-way collision Sunday at 5:38 p. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. at Oakland Ave., police said.

The crash involved a 1956 sedan driven by Arvel L. Plumley, 52, of 2210 Crawford Ave. and a 1966 model pickup truck driven by Robert W. Cregar, 19, of 1600 Holiday St.

Miss Louise Plumley, a pasenger in the auto, complained of injuries, but said she would consult her physician, police reported.

Plumley told police he was driving west on Pennsylvania Ave. when the truck emerged from an alley and struck his auto. Cregar reported he halted at the intersection, saw no oncoming traffic and then pulled into the thoroughfare. When he saw Plumley's car, he halted, and the collision followed, he said.

The crash damaged the left side and front of the Plumley car and the right front of the truck, officers said.

A COLLISION at E. 3rd and College Sts. Sunday at 3:14 p. m. involved a 1963 four-door sedan driven by Mearl Clarence Boyd, 57, of 936 Center St., Wellsville, and a 1958 two-door sedan operated by Ulus L. Dunham, 40, of 651 Bradshaw Ave.

Boyd said as he pulled out of Thompson Ave. Dunham's car emerged from College St. and hit his right rear fender. Dunham's car was undamaged, police said.

Two cars were damaged in a collision Sunday at 1:30 p. m. on Park Blvd., 60 feet east of Elysian Way.

The mishap involved a 1965 two-door convertible operated by Joseph C. Walters, 19, of Park Way and a 1965 two-door driven by James R. McGurran, 44, of 859 Ohio Ave.

The autos were traveling in opposite directions when they collided on a curve, officers said. One of the vehicles then damaged a pole supporting a mailbox on the property of W. R. Mension of Park Blvd. The mishap damaged the rear of the Walters car and the left front fender of the McGurran auto, police said.

7 Members Enrolled At Radio Club Session

Melvin Kidder Jr. was among seven new members accepted into the Penova Citizen Band Radio Club during a meeting Sunday at the clubhouse on Route 45, near Wellsville.

Others accepted were Patricia Ann Kidder, Ronald T. Keys, Robert G. Chisler, Oly J. Evans, Kelly Smith and Robert Seever.

David Laneve, president, conducted the meeting, with 16 members present.

The next meeting will be Feb. 19 at 7:30 p. m. at the clubhouse.

Area Choir Director Honored With Party

HOOKSTOWN — Janet Smith, director of the Sunshine Girls Choir of the Free Methodist Church, was honored at a surprise birthday party recently by the choir with Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Gillespie of E. 5th St., East Liverpool.

Miss Smith was presented with a purse.

Lunch was served 18 by Mrs. Calvin, assisted by Mrs. Thelma Howard and Mrs. Maxine Smith.

Heart Fund Campaign Has Goal Of $17,759

Columbiana County's drive to reduce the death toll of the nation's No. 1 killer is swinging into high gear, with more than $17,000 being asked to help combat heart and blood vessel diseases.

Kenneth Hiscoc of Lisbon, co-chairman with George Wilson of Wellsville for the 1967 Heart Fund, said this year's drive for $17,759 has an unprecedented number of volunteers — "but also the highest goal in the history of the county."

ASSISTING in the campaign will be 17 city and village chairmen and 19 township chairmen. The goal this year is about $4,000 higher than was received in last year's campaign.

An entire week, Feb. 20-26, has been set aside for workers to canvass for funds in an effort to get the record-breaking amount. Meetings of city, village and township workers have been held during the past several months in preparation for the month-long campaign.

Included in the list of special activities to raise funds is a teen-age benefit dance at the "Attic" in Salem Feb. 14.

"We consider the support and response of the younger members of the area in aiding our cause by attending the dance a significant factor in the thought they are placing on the future," Hiscoc said. "It shows that they are just as interested as adults in the eradication of heart disease," he concluded.

Twining Hiscoc, son of Kenneth Hiscoc, and chairman of the board of the local Heart branch, declared, "We don't believe we are asking too much from each person in the county. We are seeking about 20 cents per person as a minimum donation." "It recently was estimated that people spend 326 times as much for alcoholic beverages and 239 times as much for tobacco products as they do in the fight against heart disease", he concluded.

Wilson, southern Columbiana County chairman, added, "When you consider there are three times as many deaths from heart disease as from cancer and nine times as many from all types of accidents, there is really no comparison as to what cause of death needs attention."

A LIST of township, city and village chairmen and the goals for their respective areas follows.

Freed Spy Looks Forward To Vacation With His Wife

WELLESLEY, Mass. (AP) — Vladimir Kazan-Komarek, "just settling down to this fantastic surprise" of being freed from an eight-year prison term in Czechoslovakia on spy charges, looked forward today to a quiet vacation with his wife.

First, however, the travel agent planned a trip to Washington today to discuss the case with State Department officials.

Kazan-Komarek, 42, a Czech-born naturalized American citizen, has admitted he is "partly guilty" of the spy charges on which he was convicted last week at a trial in Prague, but declined to disclose details at the department's request.

"They pulled me out of Czechoslovakia and I want to respect their wishes," he said. "I think it is my duty now to consult with the State Department and discuss the eventual clearance."

Kazan-Komarek, who was "washing the floors" in prison at 5 a. m. Saturday when he learned he would be set free and then was home that night, reflected Sunday on the "jet age change" and talked of a week's vacation.

"I want to get some sunshine," he said. "I think it will be just myself and Mrs. Kazan. I need a quiet time."

Still accustomed to the early rising regimen he had followed in prison, Kazan-Komarek was up Sunday before dawn although he spent a relaxed morning at his home in Wellesley, a Boston suburb, and didn't dress until noon.

After his five children, aged 4 to 12, returned from Sunday school he gave them presents he had bought from Moscow while attending a travel agents' conference.

Car Shears Pole

EAST PALESTINE — A car operated by Jerry Fitzsimmons, 18, of 656 W. Main St. sheared off a utility pole on Park Ave. Sunday at 1:36 a. m., interrupting power in the immediate area for about 15 minutes. Fitzsimmons was cited for speed in excess of conditions. Damage to the pole and transformer was set at $300. Fitzsimmons' 1962 model car was demolished.

Court Orders Man's Arrest

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today ordered a bench warrant for the arrest of a 53-year-old trucker who failed to appear for a scheduled hearing on a charge of speeding 60 miles an hour in a 45-mile zone on Route 30.

The defendant is Paul Savers of R. D. 1, cited by the patrol Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. Officers reported he was driving a tanker truck loaded with coal tar and allegedly violated the 45-mile limit while descending the Cannons Mills hill.

Meanwhile, a 46-year-old man cited after a near-collision with a patrol car Wednesday on W. 8th St. near Westgate School was fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of changing lanes without exercising proper caution.

Earl E. Wilson of 2140 Ohio Ave. was cited by Patrolman D. D. Sumrok. The officer reported Wilson was following another car on the four-lane stretch. Sumrok said when he began to pass on the left Wilson "swung out into the left lane and almost hit the patrol car on the side."

Questioned by the judge about the circumstances, Wilson replied that the car ahead of him stopped suddenly "and it was either hit him or swing out."

"Yes, but what a car to pick on—a state patrol cruiser!" the judge replied.

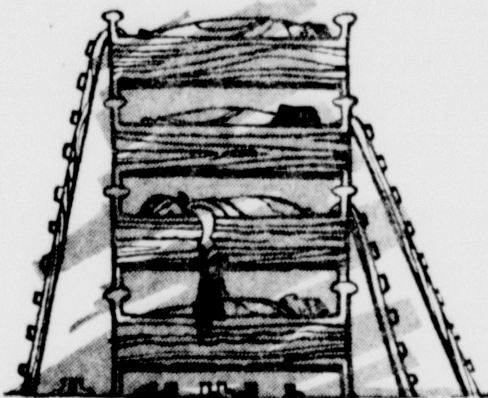

Jack L. Womer, 40, of 528 1st Ave. forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge of crashing a traffic signal Sunday at 11:47 p. m. at W. 5th and Jackson Sts. He was cited by Patrolman James Buckley.

Palestine Parley Set

EAST PALESTINE — All residents of newly-annexed areas of the city are invited to a meeting of City Council to-night at 7:30 at which time Mayor Robert Harding will review the estimated cost of extension of utility services. Surveys of the areas already have been made with federal funds. The results will be explained to some 700 residents of the areas annexed about three years ago.

Behind-The-Scenes Work

W.Va. Committees Study Strip Mine, Liquor Bills

CHARESTON (AP) — Most of the legislative action today was set to go on behind the scenes with committee work slated on the strip mining control bill and possible Finance Committee consideration of the private club liquor bill.

The Senate Natural Resources Committee scheduled an afternoon meeting to consider the measure intended to put many new teeth in West Virginia's strip mine control law.

The committee held a public hearing on the measure last week, which proved much more heated than the Judiciary and Finance committees' celebrated hearing on the liquor bill last Friday.

No indication has yet been received on what amendments—if any — the Natural Resources Committee will recommend. Opponents last week were most vehement against provisions forbidding strip mining within 500 feet of any public land and requiring a 45 degree cut angle for high walls.

The strip mine operators contend this is unreasonable, which proponents of the measure insist both are necessary safeguards.

After Friday's public hearing, the Senate Judiciary Committee reported out the bill to permit liquor by the drink in private clubs, after proposing several amendments.

Because there is a double reference on the measure in the Senate, it was to be handed to the Finance Committee during today's session.

The Senate had three bills at passage stage today, one of them authorizing sale of another $20 million in road bonds under the 1964 Better Roads Amendment. The other two bills up for passage would revise licensing requirements of optometrists and abolish the West Virginia New York World's Fair pavilion fund.

The House had only one bill at passage stage, to permit licensed wreckers and dealers to tow wrecked or disabled vehicles which are unlicensed.

The next regular meeting will be March 2 at the home of Vicki McAvoy.

Ohio Assures Horsemen On Use Of Park

A Columbiana County delegation has no plans for barring horsemen from Beaver Creek State Park.

The assurance came last week during a meeting with Melvin J. Rebholz, chief of Ohio parks and recreation, at a meeting in Columbus.

"Horsemen, as well as the general public, are encouraged to use the park and all of the facilities available to them in the 1,300-acre park," he added. Rebholz said under existing state regulations horses are allowed only in state parks where specific facilities have been provided for them.

In order to comply with the restrictions, the necessary facilities are being prepared as possible so trail riding enthusiasts can continue to use the park.

Rebholz explained the state regulations and preparations during a meeting at which Ralph O'Neal and James R. Magill, both of Columbiana, acting as spokesmen for over 1,000 area horsemen, presented a petition signed by horsemen requesting development of trails and other facilities, and protesting their exclusion from the park at one time last fall.

Also attending the meeting was Norm Hall, recreation supervisor for state parks, who assured O'Neal and Magill that Beaver Creek Park is in line for priority consideration to provide the needed facilities.

State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon, who arranged the meeting and attended along with State Sen. John Longworth of Salem, said the proposed state budget this year allocates $250,000 for the purchase of adjoining land and improvement of present facilities.

O'Neal and Magill said suggestion for a possible site for parking and camping for horse owners and specific suggestions for the care and safety of horses and owners were received favorably by the state officials.

Education Council

New City Group Planned To Study, Assist Schools

Organization of a new East Liverpool school improvement group will take place at a general meeting Friday night.

Presidents of various civic and service clubs and units have been asked to attend or send representatives to the meeting at 7:30 at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church parish hall.

Tentatively named the Education Development Council, the organization aims at improving all facets of education in the East Liverpool public schools.

This is defined as rendering aid and advice to the board of education and studying and improving all aspects of the academic, extra-curricular, athletic, financial and administrative areas of the school district.

Letters to the civic and social groups were mailed last week over the signatures of Nelson Hagerty, Mrs. Jane Vodrey, Charles Lang and John Thompson.

They are part of a group interested in involving more of the community into the school programs as a means of bettering the education system.

Among organizations invited to send a delegate are veterans' units, PTA's, local labor

Assassination Type Shooting Claims Man

CLEVELAND (AP) — Milton Martin, 30, died in Mount Sinai Hospital early today of wounds suffered in what police described as an assassination type shooting.

Police said two men jumped from an automobile on Crawford Road Sunday night and shot Martin. They added that when Martin pleaded for his life, the assailants beat him and fired two more shots.

The first voice radio signals across the Atlantic Ocean were sent from the Eiffel Tower to Arlington, Va.

Home Owner's Diary

Permanent Record Helps Running A House

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

If you'd like to live happily ever after in that first home, prepare a home owner's diary. It will be a permanent record for you of how much it costs to run your house and what you can afford to do in your house in upcoming months.

It will come in handy for many other listings: to settle arguments (what day did the first crocus arrive, the first robin, did the groundhog show its shadow, when the frost occurred, whether it snowed on Easter Sunday).

run your home in an efficient manner.

Some people take to a house like raccoons to corn; but others have difficulty in pulling off home tasks, and they hate it. Even if you could afford a resident superintendent, you'd still have to make some decisions in respect to your home. No matter how good pipes, roof and cellar look when you move in, the best built home has its problems.

THE FIRST entry in your diary should be a list of all the people (and their telephone numbers) who will help make your house tick.

The heating company (you'd be surprised how many people scurry around trying to find that emergency number in the middle of the night when the furnace bogs down).

The electrician (some people don't have a fuse on hand when a short circuit takes place).

The plumber (many a person wakes up to find the kitchen door has blown open. Snow is the diary, though, is to use it to ready to burst or have burst). A list that includes carpenters and other workmen will get you in the mood to call them when something needs fixing.

For example, a leak caused by ice packing under the eaves. It can't be solved permanently by the mere chopping out of the ice (as you freeze on a ladder in sub-zero temperature).

You must get at the root of it and have it repaired, even though you've solved the problem temporarily. Do you need new gutters or do you need to waterproof the eaves?

If you forgot to remove leaves from the house gutter until the leak occurred, make a note in your diary for fall 1967: Remove leaves from gutter.

Another notation could be: Have small tear in patio awning repaired when it is stored. (Otherwise you'll have a nice big unrepairable rip and a new awning will be in order.)

A HOUSE diary will help you plan to do things you can't afford right now . . . new wiring . . . air conditioning . . . housepipe replacement.

Decide what must be done, and the months when the money may be available. Get your estimates (three) from workers and set your goal. Line up the worker, too, for a specific day in the future.

Investigate all the sources that can provide you with a easy payment plans such as electrical companies (some will pay electricians and put his charge on your bill in monthly installments), oil companies (if you'll give them your business they'll make it convenient for you to buy their furnaces or whatever). This idea may apply to other utility companies. Ask!

It doesn't cost anything to ask for estimates. And sometimes you'll be surprised that you can have something done painlessly, even though you've been brooding about the financial expenditure necessary.

The diary can help you to accrue money for specific improvements such as screening-in or glassing-in a porch, by making you aware of the goal and reminding you to plan for it.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—What can I do about tarnished silverware?

A.—Lay the tarnished silver in a pan of sour milk for at least a half-day, then wash in sudsy water. The tarnish should then have vanished.

Q.—How can I prevent the drain in my washbowl from becoming clogged with hair when I shampoo my head?

A.—If you'll insert a small piece of steel wool in the drain opening it will allow the water to run through, but will catch any stray hairs.

Q.—What can I do when I have yeast bread and rolls that won't rise because of a damp, cool atmosphere?

A.—Try using your electric heating pad. Plug it in to "low," and place a piece of aluminum foil over it. Set your bowl, pans, or plastic bag of yeast dough on top of the foil-covered pad. The foil acts as a heat conductor and the dough will rise even more and in quicker times than it would under normal favorable conditions.

Protection Against Housebreakers

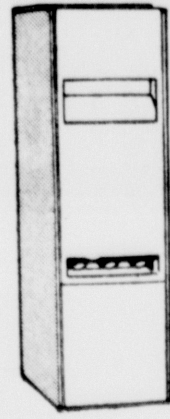

Security Begins With Good Locks

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
No home can be made totally burglar proof. If the burglar is determined and skillful enough he will break in anywhere.
But a housebreaker is only human and will follow the line of least resistance.
He will break into a home with few or inadequate safeguards more frequently than he will attempt to break into a house that is relatively secure.
Though there are a variety of alarm devices that can be installed, security begins with good locks.
A good lock on the main entrance is wasted money if the back door is protected by an easily tampered with spring lock and if windows are left open.
GOOD LOCKS are not expensive nor are they difficult to install. Most doors are equipped with a spring lock, a lock with a sloped face on the bolt so that it locks when you slam the door shut. These are easily opened.
Replace this type lock with a deadlock, which has a square or round bolt that must be turned to either open or close it. From the outside, a key must be used to lock it.
Deadlocks and spring latches are very similar in size and type of hardware, so there is little trouble in making a replacement. If it is a new door, check for some of the newer deadbolts. One type has a bolt that moves up and down rather than across.
A large window in the door makes most locks useless since the housebreaker can break the glass and reach in and open the door.
You can buy a double-cylinder lock to guard against this. A key must be used on the inside to open it, just as you would on the outside.
There are newer chain bolts that can be opened from the outside with a key, permitting the person inside to retire for the night without having to get up later to admit another member of the family.
Most window locks work only when the window is totally closed. Even then, a determined housebreaker can break or cut the glass, reach in and open the lock and raise the sash.
Locks can be obtained that will permit the window to be opened partially. Best of these are locks that work with a key.
There also are barrel bolts for windows that permit them to be opened part way. Protect all windows, including cellar windows, with locks of some kind.
Don't forget upstairs windows. There are such things as ladders and most people know how to use them. Do not leave your own ladders around, in an unlocked garage for instance.

Burglar alarms are expensive and should be installed by an expert.
If your house is left empty for long periods of time, an alarm system might be a good investment. It can be powered by house current or batteries. These are best if they use both, with batteries as standby power if wires are cut or there is a power failure.
In general, remember that a housebreaker can get in most anywhere but is most likely to try it where he encounters the least fuss and bother.

Windy Wellington

WELLINGTON — This New Zealand capital is known as Windy Wellington, and on the word of Dr. J. F. de Lisle the windiest city. In the past five years, it recorded one gust of 154 miles per hour, and several cap fits. Dr. de Lisle, a scientist, says a study he has made or wind in New Zealand has proved Wellington is by far the windiest city.

Steelmakers Look To U.S. For Aid In Import Problem

CLEVELAND (AP) — Steel Magazine said today that this may be the year of the big test of whether foreign steelmakers can continue to increase their sales in the U.S. market.
The metalworking weekly said that 1966 was the fifth straight year in which imports of steel products set a record.
It noted that imports of 10,752,878 tons last year accounted for an estimated 11 per cent of the steel consumed in this country.
Domestic steel makers believe the imports will continue to gain momentum and are looking to the federal government for help, the magazine said.
It added that the U.S. steel companies, in an attempt to counteract imports, have spent nearly $2 billion annually on new plants and equipment in the last three years.

"But spending isn't enough, industry leaders contend," Steel continued. "They say that they've reached a point where the export-import problem in the steel industry must be recognized by the officers of government and appropriate steps taken to solve those portions of it which only the government can solve."
The magazine also said that steel is being produced by U.S. mills at an annual rate of about 127.2 million tons compared with the 126.3 million-ton pact at this time last year. Last week's output was 102,440,000 tons compared with 2,373,000 tons the previous week.
Steel production was described by the magazine as remarkably high, considering the sluggish demand in several large consuming markets—such as automobiles, appliances and construction—and a blizzard that forced curtailment of operations of some Midwest plants in the last week of January.

"Furnace operations started to recover quickly from the effects of the storm, but finished steel shipping schedules may not get back to normal for two to four weeks," Steel said. "A smaller than anticipated movement of steel in the first quarter may result."

The magazine reported that the market on the steelmaking grades of scrap appears to have stabilized. Its composite price on the No. 1 heavy melting grade of scrap was unchanged at $27.67 a gross ton last week.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: Once in a while an idea comes in that is so farfetched, I just know it's absurd but being curious, I just have to test it. For instance just listen to what Audrey Tanner suggested:

"When I make egg salad sandwiches, salads, deviled eggs, etc., instead of using a grater to prepare my hard-boiled eggs, I use a piece of nylon net. It really saves time."

I cut my eggs in half and put a half in the middle of the net and twist like one would twist the top of a bag. The egg squeezes easily through ... ready for use.

Shake the nylon net in clear water and it can be reused many, many times."

I THOUGHT surely the egg couldn't squeeze through the net. The yolk maybe, but not the white. Wouldn't the net spoil? But as long as my female curiosity was aroused, I went out to the kitchen and boiled six eggs.

I cut one in half and tried Audrey's hint. I could hardly believe my eyes ... the most beautiful shredded eggs you ever saw dropped into my bowl. Yes, the white and all!

I deviled the remaining five eggs by shredding the yolks the same way. I ended up having twice as much filling to stuff my egg with. They were beautiful, light and "unlumpy."

So let's not hesitate anymore to prepare grated eggs using Audrey's nylon net way, for we won't even have a grater to wash!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: We have a lot of valuable books. Some of them are priceless first editions. Several years ago we got the bright idea of putting every book in our library into its own thin plastic bag. I did a few shelves at a time.

This keeps the books free from humidity and dust, yet the titles are easily readable through the thin plastic. The plastic covers can be removed.

Air is the greatest disintegrating hazard to books and the plastic bags are the answer. Most of all, they are so inexpensive.

HELEN PRATTIS.

As inexpensive as plastic bags are today, I'd be surprised if libraries don't start using your hint! Think of the hours of dusting it would save. Especially on seldom-used books.

Bless you, Helen!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: To make an easy and inexpensive clothespin bag: Take a boy's sweat shirt (V-neck is better), turn it inside out and sew up the sleeve ends and bottom. Turn it right side out and put it on a wooden hanger.

Just hang it on your clothesline and pull it along as you hang out your wash.

BARBARA PARK.

DEAR HELOISE: When you need a bib for a visiting child, pull off about four sheets of paper towel. Fold it in half and use a spring clothespin to hold the corners to the shoulders of the child's shirt.

The paper toweling absorbs and is comfortable. Most of all, there is no bib to wash and iron.

KAY McCOOL.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is how I clean my venetian blinds.

I wring a soft cloth out in warm water, then dip it in a small container of good wax cleaner.

It cleans and shines them at the same time.

Then I polish the blinds with a dry soft cloth. This leaves a shining hard finish that stays clean much longer and is easily dusted.

ETHEL ALEXANDER.

Letter Of Laughter

DEAR HELOISE: How does a mother of 2- and five-year-old boys keep a neat house?

They have a toy room but it looks more like they have a toy house.

Once I emptied the toy box and put the toys in a bag in my closet. Then I told my little 5-year-old, "no toys until you learn to pick them up."

JONESIE.

Two days later he showed me his toy box, which to my surprise, was full—of OTHER kids' toys. Oh boy!

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I was deeply disappointed in your answer to the woman who wrote about her husband who preferred her silk nighties to his own pajamas.

You didn't come right out and say the man was a weirdie but you made it obvious that you considered him mighty odd, even though his wife stated flatly that there was nothing funny about him.

My wife and I are happily married and we have three lovely children. I have been wearing my wife's girdles for several years and I'm not ashamed of it. I wear a girdle because it makes my back feel better and it improves my posture. I also wear nylons under my wool socks because I need something to hold my girdle down.

I trust you will print this letter in the interest of fairness. I always thought you were open-minded — until now. — DALLAS GOLFER.

Dear Dallas: I try to be open-minded but that doesn't mean I have holes in my head.

I was all set to go along with your girdle for health reasons, although a surgical corset designed for males with back problems would have made more sense. But when I read that bit about the nylons you lost my support completely.

A word of advice to you, Old Buddy: Don't let the guys in the locker room get a load of your undies or you're going to have a lot more trouble than you need.

Second-Hand Reader

Dear Ann: I'm a widow in my middle 70s and am living on a limited budget. The lady next door is very kind and thoughtful. She saves her newspapers and gives them to me the following day. Your column is my favorite feature.

About three times a week I find a big hole in the paper and your column is missing. Yesterday I dropped a broad hint but she didn't get the point.

I said, "What did Ann Landers say today? Someone tore the column out of the paper." She replied, "Oh, it was wonderful. I sent it to my mother in St. Petersburg."

Would it be in poor taste if I asked my neighbor not to tear out your column and promised to return the paper in case she wants to clip something? — FAITHFUL READER WHEN I CAN GET YOU.

Dear Faithful: I don't feel it would be in good taste to ask your neighbor not to rip things out of her paper. Some people enjoy clipping and sending. Incidentally, I wonder if your neighbor knows that my column appears in the St. Petersburg Times? A gift subscription to that paper would be a superb gift for her mother. Suggest it.

Denture Adventure

Dear Ann: The gentleman who wanted to call his wife's new teeth her Christmas gift was no gentleman and it's obvious, Ann Landers, that you have had no experience with dentures.

Why didn't you consult your dentist before you suggested that the man give his wife a single rose — and make it 33 gifts in all? He would have told you that there are only 28 teeth in a full set of dentures. Now, aren't you ashamed? — D.D.S. OF HONOLULU.

Dear Doc: Would you believe I'm mortified? Thank you (and about 400 other D.D.S.'s) for wising me up, and I'll take my punishment. Will you settle for 20 lashes with a piece of dental floss?

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Newsman 'Feeling Great' After 21 Days Of Captivity

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Tall, attractive French news-woman Michele Ray emerged from 21 days of Viet Cong captivity today dressed in black pajamas — the guerrilla uniform — and "feeling great."

The former Paris fashion model looked thinner than when she disappeared Jan. 17. She smiled and embraced journalist friends when she stepped off a helicopter at Hammond Air-strip, a forward base of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, division near Phu Cat on the central coast.

Miss Ray, 28, declined to talk about her experience, saying only, "I'm feeling great." There were indications when she vanished that she had planned it that way.

She had been driving north with two Vietnamese students in what she said was an attempt to travel the 600-mile length of South Vietnam. Her small white French car was found in a ditch about six miles north of Bong Son, in the central coastal lowlands 280 miles northeast of Saigon.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jean Ray of Nice, France, said she had written them early last month:

"I do not want to make a documentary (movie) on the war as such but rather to show the suffering endured by those fighting. I have lived with the American soldiers and I have only one last sequence to film. I will have to pass to the Viet Cong side to film it."

Miss Ray said in the letter the Viet Cong had once seized her but let her go after they found she was a French journalist.

An American spokesman said the freelance news-woman walked alone into a village north of Quang Ngai today. A U.S. helicopter picked her up. The spokesman said she appeared to be in excellent physical condition. The village was about 60 miles from where she disappeared.

Potters Smother Niles, 68-35; Record Reaches 10-5

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1967 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 18

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Vern Smith (34) is ready to release the ball and score as he aims over the outstretched arms of Niles' Lou Tabor (54) during Saturday night's contests at Memorial Auditorium. Smith went on to score 24 points, leading the Potters to a lopsided 68-35 victory.

Havice 103 Champ
Beaver Local Wins
Sectional Mat Title

Beaver Local's wrestling team, paced by its unbeaten 103-pound Jack Havice, captured the Northeastern Ohio Sectional Class AA championship Saturday at Warren Howland High School.

The Beavers, in winning their first Sectional title, scored 65 points to edge Crestwood which totaled 62. Warren was third with 45 points. Beaver Local won the title over 16 other schools which were entered in the event.

While capturing the Sectional crown, Coach Paul Jackson's Beavers qualified seven wrestlers for the District wrestling tournament next week end at Mayfield Heights near Cleveland.

In the semi-finals Beaver Local took one first place, two seconds, one third and three fourth place spots.

Havice was the only member of the Beaver Local squad to win first place as he scored a 9-3 victory over Bill Denno of Warren Harding in the championship match.

During the Sectional tournament Havice won four matches pushing his unbeaten string to 17-0. He won his first match with a pin in 35 seconds, then set a school record by scoring a 19-0 victory in his second match. The 19 points were the most ever scored in one match by a Beaver Local wrestler.

Tom Nieporte Wins In Hope Golf Classic

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) —It was something out of the book of golfing miracles, the stunning upset victory of Tom Nieporte over Doug Sanders in the $110,000 Bob Hope Desert Golf Classic.

It was a triumph for a 37-year-old teaching professional who seldom plays the money tournaments and never was famous during the five years he journeyed over the nation on the PGA tour. His PGA winnings last year were $390.

But this likeable, good-looking father of seven, with an eighth expected at his winter home in Boca Raton, Fla., came through under pressure to win an admittedly welcome $17,600.

He broke a tie with Sanders on the 18th green with a 12-foot putt for a birdie, a final round 69 and a 90-hole score of 349, 11 strokes under par.

The resplendent Sanders, playing behind the 6-foot-1, 185-pound Nieporte, had two holes to catch up.

Doug, seeking his second Classic win in a row here, came close on two long putts for birdies but couldn't get them.

The tournament concluded the winter swing through California. The $70,000 Phoenix Open in Arizona follows this weekend. But Nieporte left Monday for home and then three tournaments in the Caribbean.

Lisbon Is Caught
In Final Quarter

LISBON — Lisbon, paced by its scoring star Don Blair, led for three periods but ran out of gas in the final quarter in dropping a 55-51 decision to Louisville here Saturday night.

Lisbon led 31-25 at halftime and 43-40 going into the fourth period but Louisville took the lead midway through the final quarter to cop the victory.

Blair, the Tri - County League's No. 1 scorer poured in 23 points but the effort came in a losing cause.

Stanton Wallops
Yorkville, 87-71

With five hitting in double figures, Stanton Local trounced a visiting Yorkville five, 87-71, Saturday night at the Stanton Local gym. It was the fifth victory against 10 losses for Stanton.

Dave Olesky led the scoring parade with 23 points as Cliff Slusher dropped in 19, Randy Frampton 15, Elmer Tice 13 and Tony Smolinsky 12.

The East Liverpool Potters completed a successful long home stand and at the same time assured Coach Clinton McConnell a winning campaign in his first season here by walloping Niles, 68-35, before some 1,300 fans at Memorial Auditorium Saturday night in a Big 8 Conference game.

The past weekend turned out to be an easy one for the Potters who continued to pad the win column and pushed their current victory streak to five straight. On Friday, East Liverpool had little trouble rolling over Youngstown North 66-37.

DURING the 10 consecutive games on the home court the Potters won eight to carve out a 10-5 record going into the final three games of the season.

East Liverpool now must leave the MA court and play on the road two nights going to Martins Ferry Friday and Warren Western Reserve Saturday. The final game of the season with a strong Pittsburgh Fifth Ave. outfit is at the MA.

BY LOSING Saturday night, Niles dropped its 12th game of the season and its sixth in the last seven starts. The Red Dragons own a 5-12 record.

Coach Bob Doll, who was the head mentor at Kent State University last season, started a team smaller than the Potters with only one senior in the starting five.

The Dragons were no match for East Liverpool's height as the Potters, led by Mitchell Jones and Bruce Christian, managed to control the backboards and grabbed 45 rebounds. Jones took 11 and Christian nine.

NILES also found East Liverpool's tight man-to-man defense a tough nut to crack. The visitors only took 42 shots and made 13 for a 30 per cent average.

The Potters had one of their better shooting nights in some-time, hitting 44 per cent with 29 field goals in 65 attempts.

VERN SMITH, the Potters 6-2 scoring star, hit well over his 19-point average by pouring in 24 points. Smith took 21 shots at the hoop and hit 10 while sinking four of eight fouls.

Smith was driving well as he poured past Niles defenders along the baseline for several buckets. Limited to six points in the first half, Smith pitched in 18 markers in the last 16 minutes.

East Liverpool got off to a slow start Saturday night but soon warmed to the task in the second quarter.

AFTER the opening minutes, Niles jumped out to a 5-0 lead before the Potters scored 10 straight points as each starter hit a field goal for a 10-5 first quarter margin.

The Blue and White was never in trouble after the first quarter as a streak of eight straight points midway through the second period pushed the lead to 23-11 and the first half ended in a 30-14 advantage for the Potters.

EAST Liverpool went on to outscore Niles, 16-9, in the third period for a 46-23 margin to carry into the final eight minutes.

Behind Smith in the scoring department was Christian with 13 points while Jones finished with nine. Mike McVay eight and Earl Diddle seven.

Not one Niles starter hit the double figures. Senior Mike Cricks was high with nine. Steven Soda, 5-10, the Dragons leading scorer, only added six points to the total.

Beavers Gain 64-54 Revenge Win

Crestview Beaten For Win No. 12

Beaver Local got sweet revenge Saturday night in scoring a 64-54 victory over Crestview on the Beaver gym.

Coach Lloyd Stockdale's team had been spilled by the Rebels in an earlier meeting this season but evened the score Saturday night.

The Beavers took a 16-13 first period lead then pulled away to a 35-22 margin by halftime.

Bill Barnhart, who was out with an injury when Beaver Local lost to Crestview the first time around, tallied 20 points to lead scoring parade.

The Beavers showed a well-balanced offense with three other starters hitting in the double figures. Don Lyle finished with 13 while Rex Campbell added 12 and Dennis Klembara 11.

Crestview depended on the scoring of Randy McBride who poured in 20 points to lead the Rebels.

Beaver Local shot a respectable 42 per cent from the floor hitting 27 times in 64 tries. Crestview shot 33 per cent on 20 of 61.

The Beavers are now 10-6 for the season while Crestview is 8-7.

Beaver Local has two home games remaining on its schedule with Jefferson Union appearing Tuesday night and Southern Friday.

Coach Don Ross' crack reserve squad registered its 12th straight victory and pushed its season record to 13-3 with a 36-30 win in the preliminary contest.

UCLA 'Thaws Out' USC In Overtime By 40 To 35

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Southern California, once a warm spot on UCLA's schedule, turned suddenly cool last week-end and almost froze the top-ranked Bruins out of college basketball's unbeaten ranks.

Only a thaw during an overtime period enabled the Bruins to overcome the Trojans 40-35 Saturday, run their victory string to 17 and avoid the upset of the season.

The rest of the Top Ten scored relatively easy victories, except ninth-ranked Vanderbilt, which fell victim to hot-handed Florida 83-75.

Highly-regarded Tennessee also had problems, losing to Mississippi 56-53 in overtime, and remained in an 8-2 tie with Vanderbilt for the Southeastern Conference lead.

UCLA remained the only major school with a perfect record when Toledo lost to Marshall 96-81, the Rockets' first defeat after 14 triumphs.

USC came within one last shot of leaving the perfect list vacant after two free throws by Lucius Allen tied the score for UCLA at 31-31 with 2:19 left in regulation time.

The shot missed, however, and UCLA broke the stall in overtime as Bill Sweek stole the ball twice for scores and Lew Alcindor, who led all scorers with 13 points, added another basket.

Southern Cal was bombed by the Bruins twice earlier, so the change of tempo did not surprise UCLA Coach John Wooden. But he warned others who try it.

"In the long run, the stall will kill the teams who employ it," he said as he prepared his club for home games this weekend against Oregon State and Oregon.

Fifth-ranked Princeton, which beat Harvard 66-59 for a 17-1 record, has been the only other ranked team faced with a freeze. But the Tigers survived, beating Dartmouth 30-16 earlier in the week.

Toledo could blame its fall on George Stone, who scored 31 points for host Marshall.

Skip Higley branded Vanderbilt with 22 points at Gainesville as Florida held third in the SEC with a 9-4 mark.

North Carolina, No. 2 at 14-1, stayed a step ahead of Duke and South Carolina in the Atlantic Coast Conference by easily beating Maryland 85-77 as Rusty Clark and Larry Miller each scored 20 points. The Tar Heels have a full week against Virginia Tuesday, Wake Forest Thursday and Georgia Tech Saturday.

Louisville, No. 3, revengeed one of its two losses in 20 games, holding off a late Cincinnati challenge for a 65-57 Missouri Valley Conference triumph. Westley Unseld had 19 points for Louisville.

The loss all but eliminated the defending champion Bearcats and left the Cardinals at 7-1 and headed for a Feb. 18 clash against Tulsa, 5-1, which lost out of the conference to fourth-ranked Texas Western 61-53.

Louisville faces Drake at Des Moines Wednesday and then third-place Wichita State, 5-2, at home Saturday.

Seventh-ranked Kansas remained a half game behind Nebraska in the Big Eight after crushing Iowa State at Ames, Iowa, 68-50 while the Cornhuskers beat Kansas State 67-59 on the road. They meet in a showdown Tuesday at Lawrence, Kan.

Western Kentucky protected its No. 8 ranking, belting Middle Tennessee 95-62 for its 16th straight after an opening loss.

Houston, No. 6, and Providence, No. 10, were idle Saturday before springing into a week of three games each. The Cougars play Lamar Tech tonight, Hardin-Simmons Thursday and Notre Dame Saturday. St. Bonaventure, Fairfield and Niagara await the Friars.

EL Reserves Record 14th Straight Nod

East Liverpool's reserve forces inched closer to that unbeaten campaign but were given a few scares in defeating the Niles jayvees, 45-37, for No. 14 Saturday night at Memorial Auditorium.

The young Potters held only a 22-18 halftime advantage. After three periods, Niles was still threatening, trailing 32-27 but the Potters managed to protect the lead through the final eight minutes.

Tom Chambers was the only Potter in the double figures with 12 while Jerry Christian added nine. Harry Salapata paced Niles with 13 points.

EAST PALESTINE — East Palestine turned in a big second half to break a tight game open in an 82-55 victory over Leetonia here Saturday night.

Ten players shared in the Bulldogs scoring as Jim Parker set the pace with 14 and Jim Conkle added 13.

East Palestine could only take a 31-27 lead at halftime as Leetonia battled on even terms. The Bulldogs came out for the second half and went on to outscore Leetonia 24-14 in the third period for a commanding 55-41 margin.

Leetonia was led by Bill Dinsio who dropped in 16 points.

The victory leaves East Palestine with a 10-6 record while Leetonia is 3-13.

Clay 4-1 Choice Tonight In Bout Against Terrell

HOUSTON (AP) — Cassius Clay calls Ernie Terrell "a one-armed bandit." Terrell calls Clay "an incomplete fighter." They both may be right, but tonight they will battle for the undisputed heavyweight championship of the world and the millions that often go with boxing's richest prize.

Clay, 25, undefeated and generally regarded as the world champion, is a 4-1 favorite over a 27-year-old foe who has won 15 straight fights and is recognized as the titleholder by the World Boxing Association.

"I'm going to punish him," says Clay. "He's going to receive a Floyd Patterson humiliation beating."

The 6-foot-3 Clay gave Patterson a torturous whipping before the referee stopped that slaughter in the 12th round of their title bout Nov. 22, 1965.

"He doesn't bug me like he has some of the others he's whipped," said the 6-foot-6 Terrell.

His mouth isn't going to help him against me. I know I can beat him. I'm going to knock him out. And the beauty of it is that I'm going to get paid for it."

Clay will collect about $750,000 and Terrell will earn upwards of $250,000 for this long awaited fight.

A crowd of 35,000 may pay about $400,000 at prices ranging from $5 to $100 for Clay's eighth title defense and sixth within 11 months. The site is the magnificent Astrodome which can seat 60,000 for a fight.

The big money, however, will come from closed circuit telecasts to arenas and theaters in the United States and Canada, the live hookup by the communication satellites to England and Japan, radio, and the delayed tape telecasts in 24 other countries.

It will be the first event to be beamed simultaneously to both Europe and Asia by the satellites.

Celts Blast Royals; 76ers Top Lakers

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics are racing at top speed and fans are shouting "They're off" in the team's stretch drive to overtake the Philadelphia 76ers in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

"We're running more and, as a result, getting more shots — just the way we've done in the past," Boston player-coach Bill Russell said Sunday after the Celtics' 137-121 romp over the Cincinnati Royals.

The free-wheeling Celtics exploded for 71 points in the first half and breezed to their 12th victory in 13 games, as well as their sixth straight over Cincinnati this season.

The Celtics started out slowly against the Royals in their nationally-televased game, falling behind 10-4. They closed the gap to one point, 19-18, at the eight-minute mark.

Then Cincinnati ace Oscar Robertson suffered a split lip in a rebounding jam with Boston's John Havlicek. The Big O required six stitches and sat out the rest of the way, with his mates becoming disorganized in his absence.

Russell turned playmaker as the Celtics pulled away from a 32-28 first period lead. He set up six field goals with nifty passes in the second quarter and made only a token appearance after that.

Detroit, paced by Dave Bing, stopped St. Louis 114-104 on the Pistons' home court in another Sunday afternoon game. San Francisco nipped Chicago 142-141 in overtime and Philadelphia topped Los Angeles 130-123 in Sunday night games.

Bing tossed in 32 points, including eight in a last quarter drive that clinched it, as Detroit scored its first victory over the Hawks in six meetings this year.

Bob Boozer's two free throws tied the score at 127-127 for the Bulls at the end of regulation time, and a tip-in by Nate Thurmond with four seconds to go won it for San Francisco at Chicago. San Francisco's Rick Barry had 48 points.

Hal Greer threw in 35 points for the 76ers who got double-figure scoring from five other players in winning at Los Angeles.

The Lakers made a bid in the final two minutes, cutting the lead to 126-121. But two foul shots by Green and Chamberlain's basket clinched it for Philadelphia. Jerry West scored 26. Walt Hazzard 25 and Elgin Baylor 24 for the Lakers.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

She Should Have Danced All Night

We keep referring to TV as a "visual medium," but every time I tune in there is someone trying to talk me to death.

The Italians are supposed to be a talkative nationality, but Americans are the real talkers. Even Italy's Radiotelevisione has five- and 10-minute "Intervallo" respites between regular programs, and these are devoted to soothing music and changing pastoral scenes or swirling patterns.

I bring this up again because the lithe Lauren Bacall is making one of her infrequent visits to TV this week (Thursday) in a musical dance show on ABC's "Stage 67" at 10 p.m.

PLAYWRIGHT Arthur Laurents ("Home of the Brave," "West Side Story") has put together a light and rambling history of the dance with some tongue-in-cheek sociological overtones and called it "The Light Fantastic."

"I've known Arthur a long time, and I suppose he thought of me because he's seen me dancing at parties," says Miss Bacall. "Anyway, I'm a frustrated dancer from way back and studied ballet when I was a kid, but my feet weren't the right shape. If I'd stood on my toes too long I think they'd have broken off."

So what did Arthur Laurents do? He put Miss Bacall with actor John Forsythe and wrote some oft-strained dialogue for them which is supposed to explain how styles of social dancing reflect our good and bad times.

"IT KEEPS the show from being just a series of dance numbers," says Miss Bacall of the repartee indulged in by her and Forsythe. She did agree, however, that she should have been allowed to do more dancing in "The Light Fantastic."

Except for a brief turn at the frug and an even briefer conga bit, Miss Bacall's only dancing participation comes at the end of the hour when she and Forsythe dance the waltz and agree that "for the sake of the world, please bring back the waltz."

Of course, there is a fine company of 14 dancers to demonstrate every step from the Charleston to the cha-cha-cha, but if Laurents thought of Miss Bacall for this show because he was intrigued by watching her dance at parties, then why in the name of Arthur Murray didn't he think that the rest of us might be, too?

Local Delegation Among 1,650 At Witnesses' Rally

A highlight of the three-day circuit convention of Jehovah's Witnesses at West Branch High School in Beloit, over the weekend was the ordination of 14 new ministers by water baptism Saturday afternoon.

Following a discourse on the meaning of baptism, the candidates were led to the baptism site in Alliance.

More than 1,650, including a delegation from the East Liverpool congregation, attended the convention, which also featured a color movie, "God Cannot Lie," by Walter R. Wissman, district minister from the world headquarters in Brooklyn. Anthony Bellegante, circuit director of ministers for area Witnesses, brought the conference to a close with a talk, "Youths, Parents and Christian Congregation."

Emerson Booth, presiding minister of the East Liverpool congregation, stressed the importance of these periodic training sessions for Jehovah's Witnesses.

Transportation Discussion Set

Zigmunt Rataiczak of Steubenville, director of Region 28 of the Transportation Section of the Ohio Department of Education, will discuss a proposed survey of the transportation setup in East Liverpool's school system during a meeting of the Board of Education tonight at 8.

The board voted at its last meeting to have a survey made to assist with setting up the transportation program when the new school building program is completed. Facts gained from the survey also will be used to improve the present system.

Robert Beatty, architect, will report on the progress of the building program. The board also will act on a request for a leave of absence, two requests for rental of properties, set the commencement and baccalaureate dates and discuss a four-county meeting scheduled to be held here in the spring relative to school legislation.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Game Helps Dieter To Lose

Zestful people who practice upmanship take a special delight in being one-up in any situation. A dieter decided to play the game so as to be one-down on the calories, one-pound down. In a spirit of camaraderie, she wrote to share her system. "To get the best of the Ida Jean Kain calories I devised a plan. My calorie counting booklet included two useful facts: 1. — The number of calories you must forego to lose one pound, 3,500. Your dieters could write that figure on the top of their calorie chart. 2. — The number of calories you require normally. For example: A woman of 5' 7" needs 2,000 calories a day normally.

"THESE TWO facts enable you to keep score on the weight you are losing, which is far more exciting than just keeping count of the calories you are eating.

"Day number one, you eat 900 calories and on the calendar chalk up 1,100 calories toward your first 3,500, the number stored in one pound. In three days you have a minus score of 3,300. Ah, you've almost lost that first darned pound! In one month you have lost nearly 10 pounds, on paper and on the scales.

"It's just a trick, but I lost 15 pounds and didn't gain back more than one pound during the holidays," she concluded.

The subtraction game makes slimming more interesting. The rate of weight loss is set by your calorie deficit. One pound of body fat has a fuel value of 3,500 calories.

Your estimated daily allowance will be around 2,000 calories if you are young middle age and normally active. So, on a diet of 1,000 calories a day, you draw on excess fat for 1,000 calories. In seven days you will have drawn on stored fat for 7,000 calories, and you will have lost two pounds.

It's fun and slimming to tally your losses. On my calendar I mark the word exercise, and by that plan I am less likely to let exercise slide.

REDUCERS report other ingenious schemes to be one-down on calories. One taster, curious to see how much she consumed while preparing a meal, put each "taste" into a bowl. That eye-opener alerted her to stop automatic tasting.

Resolving to break the ingrained habit of eating fattening snacks, a homemaker prepared appetite-foolers. She cut up celery, carrots, cauliflower, green pepper and tomato, into bite sizes. Anytime she opened the refrigerator door, she ate one of these. She lost pounds!

If you have hit upon a game way to be one-down on calories, share it.

Send stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for Ida Jean Kain's New Calorie Chart. Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review.

Tuesday Registration Set In Bank Courses

Registration for the forthcoming banking school term, under auspices of the Steubenville Chapter of the American Institute of Banking, will be held Tuesday at 7 p. m. in the assembly room of the First National Bank at Steubenville.

The courses offered include money and banking, to be taught by Jack Allison, assistant vice president of the East Liverpool First National Bank, and commercial law, by J. Vincent Thompson of Steubenville Business College.

The term will begin Feb. 14 and continue through May. Robert Milby of the local First National Bank is educational director of the chapter.

Center Services Outlined During Hancock Meeting

WEIRTON — Larry Kirk, executive director of Opportunity Center, Inc., spoke during the meeting of the Hancock - Brooke County Mental Health Society Thursday night at Weirton General Hospital.

He outlined the services offered by the center. The growth of the Mental Health Service, sponsored by the Mental Health Society, was traced by Mrs. John L. Sullivan, psychiatric social worker.

She noted that 658 interviews were conducted during 1966, compared with 250 in 1965, the first full year of operation.

Dr. Eli J. Weller, chairman of the mental health drive, reported that the campaign will be conducted May 18-20, with Mike Starvaggi honored chairman.

It was reported that there are now 51 members in the Mental Health Society.

Mrs. Audrey Litman, first vice president, presided.

Alliance Man Claimed As Fire Hits Home

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP)—A 67-year-old man died in a fire at his home here Sunday night.

Elmer Patrick, who was alone in the house when the fire broke out, was pronounced dead at Alliance City Hospital after firemen found him in an upstairs bedroom.

Damage to the home was estimated at $3,000. Cause of the fire was not determined.

At Hearings On World Policies

Fulbright Hopes Fading That Rusk Will Testify

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman J.W. Fulbright said today he has about given up hope that Secretary of State Dean Rusk will testify at his Senate Foreign Relations public hearings on world policies.

Rusk, who encountered some rough questioning last year during the committee's inquiry into Vietnam, twice has turned down invitations to appear on specific dates.

Each time he told committee officials the press of other business would make it impossible to commit himself.

Rusk already has testified at a closed session but some members are eager to question him publicly. Fulbright said in an interview he has about concluded that Rusk will not testify in open session.

"I should think he would like to defend the administration's position," the Arkansas Democrat said. "But if he doesn't want to testify I have no intention of pressing him."

Reminded that Rusk considered last year's attacks unwarranted, Fulbright said he is interested only in finding out where U.S. policies are leading. He conceded he could not control the questioning of other members.

"I don't think the hearings we have held so far (this year) have been too critical of the administration's policies," Fulbright said. "Some of the witnesses have said, for example, that there are some things they wouldn't have done, but they support the President's position now that we're in Vietnam."

Nevertheless, relations between Fulbright and Rusk are reported to have reached the freezing point, though they are scrupulously polite to each other.

The two are in agreement on support of the U. S.-Soviet consular treaty, a major item pending in Fulbright's committee.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey predicted over the weekend that Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen would also "come around" to support of the pact.

17-Man Bipartisan Group To Study Ohio Education

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes has turned Ohio's school problems over to a 17-man bipartisan study committee and apparently will await its findings before making an education budget request.

The committee, designated the State supported Education Review Committee, was named by Rhodes Sunday. The chairman is Dr. John Ullery, Columbus obstetrician and College of Medicine faculty member at Ohio State University.

Rhodes, who announced in his inaugural address he'd appoint such a committee, said its main job will be to suggest legislation for improvements at all levels of the state education system.

The governor is scheduled to present his budget proposal to the legislature within a month. However, top aide John McElroy said Sunday night "the education request will probably be delayed" pending the committee study.

McElroy also said the committee's major interest will be the public schools and whether the state should assume a greater share of school financing, and if so, how much.

Rhodes said in naming the committee "equalization of educational opportunity is an acceptable precept of government."

The newly formed committee tees will meet soon, Rhodes said and consider reports of the School Survey Commission, School Reorganization Commission and Ohio Tax Study Commission.

Serving with Ullery on the committee will be four members of the legislature, five school superintendents and several others active in education or fiscal matters.

Sen. Oakley C. Collins R-18 Lawrence; Sen. Oliver Ocasek D-27 Northfield, Summit; Rep. Kenneth B. Creasy R-18 Delaware, and Rep. Myrl Shoemaker D-21 Ross.

Public School Supts. Harold Eibling, Columbus; Frank Dick, Toledo; Paul Briggs, Cleveland; Jack Brown, Lancaster; Walter Nichols, Clinton County.

Stanley McKie, Cincinnati, former president Cincinnati school board and former state legislator; Dr. Howard Jones, Youngstown University; Leon Schottenstein, Columbus, president board of trustees Torah Academy; Robert Fisher, Canton city budget director; H. K. Crowl, Dayton broadcasting executive and former state legislator; John Skipton, Findlay, former state finance director and member tax study commission and Robert Longworth, Carrollton, member tax study commission and former state legislator.

McElroy also said the committee's major interest will be the public schools and whether the state should assume a greater share of school financing, and if so, how much.

Rhodes said in naming the committee "equalization of educational opportunity is an acceptable precept of government."

Two Men Killed In Plane Crash In Pennsylvania

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP)—A light airplane, believed out of fuel, has plunged into a wooded hilltop near Washington, killing two Missouri men.

After searching for more than 24 hours, a party found the crumpled wreckage of the single-engine Cessna 182 Sunday about 200 yards from a rural road two miles from the Washington County airport.

Pinned inside were the bodies of pilot James Clark, 28, and Bruce Holloman, 29, both of St. Louis suburbs.

The wreckage was scattered over a wide area.

Authorities theorized that the plane, which did not burn, ran out of gas and plunged to earth in a near nosedive.

The men were on a flight from their homes to Newark, N.J.

They landed at Parkersburg, W.Va., late Friday to gas up but were told no fuel was available there. They then headed for Allegheny County Airport near Pittsburgh.

In his last radio message a few hours later, Clark said he was over Bellaire, Ohio, and running low on fuel.

Pittsburgh, Allegheny Price Hearing Delay

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The City of Pittsburgh and Allegheny County have asked the State Milk Control Commission to delay a scheduled price hearing until Gov. Shafer takes action on his proposals to revise the state's milk pricing procedures.

In a joint petition drafted Sunday, City Solicitor David Stahl and County Solicitor Maur Louik said Gov. Shafer has "promised comprehensive revision in the regulation of milk prices to give relief to producers and consumers."

The petition also noted actions challenging the constitutionality of the state's milk control laws are pending in state and federal courts.

The petition said area dealers did not request the hearing, set for Feb. 28.

Kentucky Rites Set For Ohio Man, 45

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Funeral services for a Middletown man who died of apparent carbon monoxide poisoning will be held at Jackson, Ky.

Police said Edward Thayer, 45, was found dead Sunday in his car in the garage of his home. They said they were told Thayer decided to sleep in the car after a quarrel with his wife Saturday night.

Woman, 53, Held In Husband's Death

CINCINNATI (AP)—A marriage of 40 years ended Sunday night when George Lester, 65, was shot dead with a .22 caliber pistol and police held his wife Fannie, 53, for questioning.

Officers said the shooting followed a domestic argument at the couple's home.

Man Free On Bond In Shooting Incident

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Arlie Jones, 41, Hamilton, was free today on $2,000 bond after being charged with shooting to kill the husband of his former wife.

Ray Morelock, 50, Hamilton, was in critical condition at Mercy Hospital with a bullet near his heart after the shooting Sunday. Jones told police he had gone to visit his former wife and their children when Morelock attacked him with a screwdriver.

ANSWER: The state of Iowa has a lot of which to be proud. Its rich, black soil grows crops so well that it is said to be of more value than all the world's gold and silver mines put together. It is first among our states for production of corn, hogs, eggs and oats. It is second only to Minnesota in butter production. And it is one of the leading states in the production of soybeans, honey, alfalfa and hay.

The farmers of Iowa proudly call their state "The land where the tall corn grows." From educational statistics we know that Iowa farmers, beside being hard working, are also smart. Iowa has a higher percentage of people who can read and write than any other state. There is also much food processing going on in Iowa, as well as the manufacture of farm machinery and washing machines.

As the white settlers moved west, the Fox and Sauk Indian tribes signed a contract giving over their lands east of the Mississippi River. But Black Hawk, one of the chiefs, would not honor the contract. His tribe refused to move and fought the Black Hawk War, in which they were defeated. The chief died near Des Moines in 1838. It is due to Black Hawk's fame that Iowa acquired its nickname of the Hawkeye State.

Mike Harness of Springfield, Mo., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Monday, Feb. 6, the 37th day of 1967. There are 323 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1933, the 20th Amendment was proclaimed in effect. It provided that Congress meet every year on Jan. 3 and the president take office every fourth year on Jan. 20.

On this date:

In 1778, France recognized the independence of the United States.

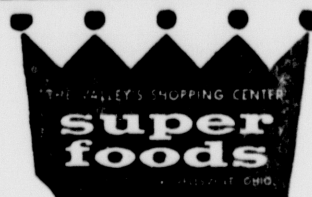

In 1802, Congress acknowledged that a state of war existed between the United States and Tripoli.

In 1945, Gen. Douglas MacArthur formally announced the fall of Manila, the Philippine capital which had been in Japanese hands.

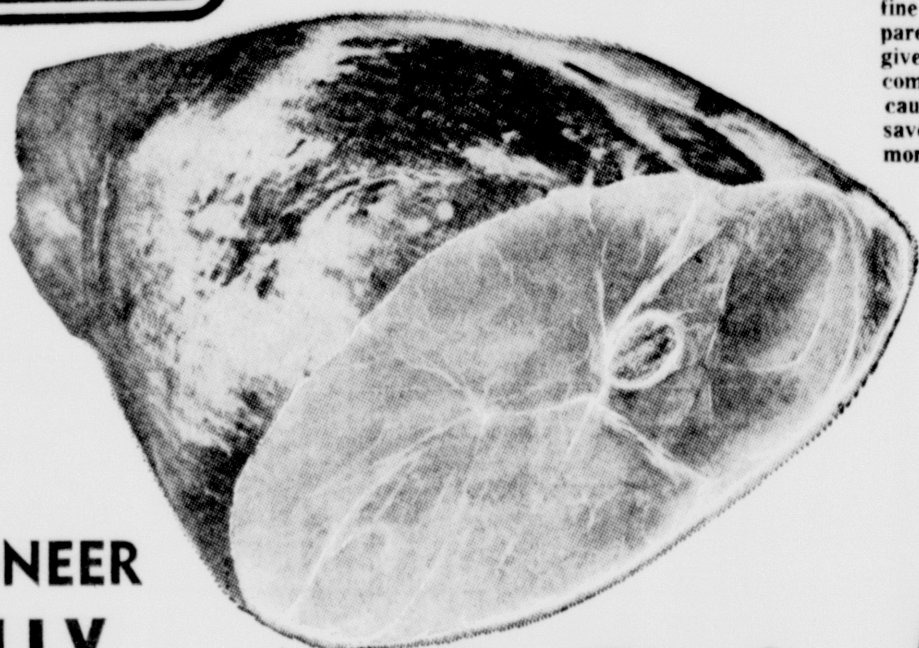

In 1947, the House of Representatives adopted a resolution limiting presidential tenure to two terms.

In 1952, England's King
